WILLKIE NOW SORRY HE AIDED DEMOCRATS

Says He Gave $150 to F. D. R. Race Fund and Wants It Back.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—(P)—Wendell L. Willkie, president of Commonwealth and Southern Corporation, utility holding company, asserted today a "personal representative" of President Roosevelt obtained from him a $150 democratic campaign donation in 1932 and now "I wish I had my money back."

Charging that utilities have become "the favorite mare to ride" for political critics, he said in a luncheon address that the $150 contribution had never been listed.

"I contributed to F. D. R. personally," Willkie said. "But of course that was not published, and I don't mind telling you I wish I had my money back. A personal representative of the President asked me for $5,000 and I gave $150. But I gave it as a lifelong democrat, not as a public utility operator."

Public opinion could, if it wished, have congress pass next January an act to correct utility abuses without "throwing this great industry into a state of chaos," he said. This "chaos," he said, is in prospect under the 1935 utility regulations act.

PARAMOUNT WILL BUY SPACE IN NEWSPAPERS

CHICAGO, Dec. 3.—A national newspaper advertising campaign in excess of $500,000 for Paramount Pictures, Inc., was announced today by Neil F. Agnew, vice president in charge of sales.

Terming newspaper advertising "the most effective selling aid we have," Agnew said the medium was also "most economical."

"Where we outline an advertising campaign calling for an expenditure of better than a half million dollars in three months, careful buying is most important," he said.

NEW RADIO STATION SOUGHT FOR ROSSVILLE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—(P)—The Communications Commission today denied station WALA at Mobile, permission to increase its night power from 500 to 1,000 watts.

Applications for new stations set for hearing at dates to be announced later included J. R. Maddox and Dr. W. B. ## 25,000 CANS OF FOOD PUT UP IN COOK COUNTY

Tobacco Furnishes Most of Farm Revenue; Much Truck Grown.

ADEL, Ga., Dec. 3.—(P)—Tobacco furnished more than two-thirds of Cook county's farm revenue this year, County Agent M. Gordon Nesmith said today.

The tobacco yield was 3,859,209 pounds from which $771,841.80 was realized.

Nesmith estimated the crop values at about $1,150,000, exclusive of $169,188.47 for tobacco, cotton and corn-hog benefits and rentals paid by the AAA to date.

The Cook county canning plant served 771 families during the year, Nesmith reported. He said about 25,000 cans of food had been put away.

The cotton yield, amounting to 2,000 bales, brought an estimated $100,000. Truck crops, such as cucumbers, squash, beans and other vegetables, added another $100,000.

The sale of 1,493,170 pounds of hogs from October 1, 1934, to September 30, 1935, brought in $83,286.13, Nesmith said. Corn, of which 10,000 bushels were sold, was estimated to have brought $50,000.

Srup added $18,000 to the cash income and approximately 300 tons of peanuts swelled the total by $16,500.

Tobacco payments from the AAA brought the largest amount of government cash. Tobacco equalization for the 1933 crop yielded $58,419; land rentals for the 1934 crop, $24,000; and land rentals for 1935 added $7,018. Corn-hog payments brought $3,403 and the rest of the benefits were paid on cotton crops.

COLD SNAPS EXTENDS TO SOUTH GEORGIA

Valdosta and Moultrie Report 26 Degrees, Savannah 29.

VALDOSTA, Ga., Dec. 3.—(P)—South Georgia got its coldest weather of the season today as the mercury fell well below freezing.

Valdosta had a low of 26 this morning, the coldest of the winter.

Moultrie reported a "good coat of ice," and a low reading of 26. Savannah, on the Georgia coast, had a 29, the lowest since last February.

In central Georgia, Macon reported a 22, the lowest of the winter. The mercury had been below freezing since 11 p. m. eastern standard time, last night.

Atlanta had a low of 21, equaling the lowest of the previous week.

Other minimum temperatures included Athens, 18; Columbus, 24, the lowest of the season; Augusta, 25, the lowest since last January; Thomasville, 26; Brunswick 30, and Albany 27.

O. M. Huie, unopposed candidate for the mayoralty of Hapeville, received 364 votes in the balloting yesterday, it was announced last night.

J. R. Cathy and W. A. Walker, unopposed for council, received 363 and 362 votes, respectively.

In the only contested race, to fill the unexpired council term of Mayor-elect Huie, S. C. Garrard defeated his opponent, Brown Tyler, by a vote of 208 to 154.

DR. J. T. CULPEPPER, 80, DIES AT THOMASVILLE

THOMASVILLE, Ga., Dec. 3.—(P)—Dr. James T. Culpepper, 80, an outstanding civic and business leader of Thomasville for more than half a century, died at his home here last night after an illness of several years.

Funeral services will be conducted by Rev. T. C. Calhoun, pastor of the First Baptist church, at the residence at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning and interment will be in Laurel Hill cemetery here.

Dr. Culpepper, born on February 20, 1855, was a native of Thomas county. As a young man he practiced medicine at Boston, Ga., but came to this city many years ago to enter the banking business.

He organized the Citizens Bank of which he was president until the institution's merger with the Bank of Thomasville in 1928.

An outstanding banker, business man and civic leader, Dr. Culpepper was a former mayor of Thomasville and served as chairman of the board of county commissioners.

At one time Dr. Culpepper served as president of the Georgia Bankers' Association.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Araminta C. Bailey, of Thomasville, and Mrs. Noble A. Upchurch, of Jacksonville, Fla., and one son, James T. Culpepper Jr.

JOHN B. CARLTON, 67, PASSES AT MOULTRIE

MOULTRIE, Ga., Dec. 3.—John B. Carlton, 67, retired Moultrie banker and manufacturer, died at his home here today following a long illness.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at the Presbyterian church in Moultrie.

A native of Elberton, Mr. Carlton came to Moultrie 35 years ago. He married Miss Ellabelle Morrison, daughter of the late John Morrison, who at the time of his death was one of the wealthiest men in south Georgia, and she and the following children survive, Mrs. Sam Dugan, Jacksonville, Fla.; John Morrison Carlton and Robert Montague Carlton, Moultrie.

Besides his wife, he is survived by six children, Stan Martin, of Columbus; Mrs. Joe Day, of Montgomery, Ala.; Albert Martin, of Camilla; Owen Martin, of Moultrie, and Misses Lila and Florine Martin, of Pelham.

His sister, Mrs. L. Courson, of Albany; Mrs. J. K. Cooper, of Mowen; Mrs. Clayton Lastinger, of Habersham; and two brothers, J. W. Martin, of Valdosta, and Curtis Martin, of Habersham.

Rev. Martin had been pastor of the Hopeful Baptist church two years. Previous to that he had served churches in Mowen, Brunswick, Omeaga and Willacoochee. His home was originally in Habersham.

JAPAN'S INFANT HEIR CHRISTENED IN TOKYO

TOKYO, (Wednesday), Dec. 4.—(UP)—The infant son born to Emperor Hirohito and Empress Nagako last week today was named Masahito Yoshi No Miya.

Japan's baby princeling was christened in strange oriental ceremonies, which date back to the mythical age of the goddess of the sun, Amaterasu Omikami.

Tokyo was belaguered for the event and throngs crowded the great, park-like plaza in front of the moat-encircled Chiyoda Castle, imperial residence in the heart of the capital, this morning.

GAINESVILLE ELECTS NEW COMMISSIONER

GAINESVILLE, Ga., Dec. 3.—H. Leon Gaines, prominent retired businessman, today was elected as a member of the city commission of Gainesville, defeating George W. Moore, whose term as commissioner expires January 1. Gaines received 304 votes and Moore 179. The campaign and election were quiet.

Gainesville has a commission composed of three members, one member being elected every year, the body designating the mayor. W. A. Palmour, present mayor, has one year to serve and Arthur W. Bell, the other commissioner, has two years. Moore served as mayor during 1934.

MRS. OHL PRESENTS BOOKS TO LIBRARY

Gift Volumes Accepted at Exercises Held in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Ga., Dec. 3.—Books, the gift of Mrs. Annulet Andrews Ohl, a native of this city, and author of "Melissa Starke," were formally accepted for the Mary Willis library at exercises here tonight, when a presentation address from Mrs. Ohl was read in her absence.

The program was sponsored by the Woman's Club, and Mrs. R. K. Johnson presided.

Mrs. Ohl, who is the widow of J. K. Ohl, long connected with The Atlanta Constitution as special writer and Washington correspondent, directed her address "To the old friends at home, their children and grandchildren."

It was read by Mrs. Thomas A. Reese. A review of Mrs. Ohl's most recent book, "Melissa Starke," was given by Mrs. H. Y. Bernard.

The library is a memorial gift to the city of Washington from the late Dr. Frank T. Willis in honor of his daughter, Mary Willis.

Mrs. Ohl in her address reviewed her literary life, dwelling especially on the literary part of it. She credits Henry Grady, of The Atlanta Constitution, with opening a way into the literary world for the Washington girl, as he assigned her to a desk, where "Uncle Remus" was turning out volumes of copy with pencil and pad, saying, "sit down there next to Joe Harris and go to work. Write what you please, talk to whom you please, an apple woman, a drayman, a bootblack—anybody who can give you a good story."

COLLEGE AT FORSYTH TO SET BOXWOOD WALK

FORSYTH, Ga., Dec. 3.—The campaign for boxwood plants to form a memorial walk at Bessie Tift College is meeting with a fine response in all parts of the country, according to Mrs. J. E. Bogle, president of the Forsyth alumnae chapter, sponsors of a campus beautification program.

Boxwood plants are being given as mementos to former presidents, trustees, teachers and students of the college by relatives and friends. All of the deceased presidents of the college are already represented in the planting. A bronze marker will be placed near the walk with names of those represented in the memorial and the donors. The walk will lead from the drive to the steps of the oldest building in the present plant.

The planting program has already made headway. Last winter, 73 magnolias were set on the front campus, and Dr. W. G. Lee, of Macon, has presented the college with two dozen camellias. Several hundred boxwood plants are expected to be included in the program.

CARTERSVILLE CITIZEN IS KILLED IN CRASH

ACWORTH, Ga., Dec. 3.—(P)—Claude B. Conyers, 37, prominent Cartersville landowner, was killed, and three Ohio tourists were injured slightly in a motor car collision near here today.

At a hospital in Marietta, the injured were listed as Mrs. William Clemmans, of Oxford, Ohio, lacerations and bruises; her young son, Billy, minor bruises, and Miss Ruth Clemmans, a niece of Mrs. Clemmans', shock and bruises.

A hospital attaché said none of the three was hurt seriously. They were en route to Florida.

Both cars were demolished.

Conyers, traveling alone, was dead when passing motorists reached him. He was the son of Mrs. Minnie Leake Conyers, and was one of the largest landowners in northwest Georgia. He is survived by his mother; his wife, the former Miss Rachel Stevens, of Cartersville, and two young sons, Claude Jr. and John Leake Conyers.

CHAPMAN STATEMENT USED IN ATHENS TRIAL

ATHENS, Ga., Dec. 3.—(P)—The federal court murder trial of X. L. Moorehead and Fred McCarty neared an end today after the government introduced a deathbed statement of the late Roy Chapman saying Moorehead handed a gun to McCarty and said: "Let him have it."

The government contends Chapman was shot by McCarty, on Moorehead's instructions. The defense claims Chapman accidentally shot and wounded himself on the steps of the postoffice here recently.

Frank King testified he arrived on the scene soon after the shooting and said he heard Chapman say he did not know who shot him.

The deathbed statement was signed, the government brought out, in the presence of Vane Hawkins, deputy clerk of the court; A. L. Watkins, special investigator of the Department of Justice, and Mrs. Tony Postero, a stenographer.

MOTHER TELLS COURT HOW SON WAS SLAIN

Street Preacher Goes on Trial at Columbus in Boy's Death.

COLUMBUS, Ga., Dec. 3.—(P)—A dramatic story of the shooting of her son was related today by Mrs. Rebecca Crittenden as H. S. Perkins, eccentric street corner evangelist charged with killing the boy and a Columbus policeman went to trial in Muscogee superior court.

Mrs. Crittenden, mother of Jewel Arrington, 18, who was shot to death as he left a house where he and the aged Perkins had quarreled, was the only witness presented before the court recessed for luncheon. She took the stand shortly after the jury was completed.

She was an eyewitness to the shooting and said Perkins shot her boy as he was walking across the street to her home from the house where the quarrel took place.

Mrs. Crittenden said Perkins shot at her four times after Arrington was wounded, and while she was holding her dying son in her arms. None of the bullets took effect but hit a porch wall behind her.

Perkins is on trial for Arrington's death only.

Defense attorneys contend Perkins was insane at the time of the shooting here last October 25.

The defense started the courtroom as the proceedings began today by a series of loud, raucous laughs.

Perkins concluded his statement from the witness stand late today by offering his belt and asking the presiding judge to whip him.

During his statement the defendant mentioned the Bible several times. The judge reminded him he was on trial for murder and asked him if he had any explanation to make of the killing.

Perkins then said he shot the youth because he "wet the walls."

His statement closed the hearing of testimony and arguments will start tomorrow.

"LITTLE TV" BODY MEETS AT AUGUSTA

Report To Be Heard Today on $17,500,000 River Plan.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Dec. 3.—(P)—Members of a board named by President Roosevelt to study the feasibility of the "Little TVA" power and navigation development on the Savannah river, above this city, will meet tomorrow to receive reports on the $17,500,000 project.

The board will go to Savannah after the hearings here after it is expected to complete its report there. The group is composed of Colonel Earl I. Brown, of the army, chairman; Sherman Woodward, of the National Resources Board, and Roger McWhorter, of the Federal Power Commission.

TAX PAYMENTS BRISK IN MOULTRIE REGION

MOULTRIE, Ga., Dec. 3.—City and county tax collectors say they have issued more receipts this fall than they have during any similar period in five years. Collection of back taxes also has been unusually good this year, according to the officials.

Fertilizer and mule dealers also declare they have little complaint to register over their collections.

WARM SPRINGS STORES VISITED BY BURGLARS

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Dec. 3.—(P)—Burglary of two stores in the village of Warm Springs was reported today by J. R. Fowler, police chief.

He said the Palace drugstore was robbed of $55 in cash, and Kersey's QSS grocery of flour and tobacco valued at about $50.

to be especially diligent in preserving the tender plants.

"We do not believe children are responsible for the widespread and apparently flagrant destruction of the plants which has taken place," Simons said, "but we need the co-operation of citizens in apprehending those who are responsible."

"Officers will be assigned to protect the plants, and we want the children to aid us also. If any person is caught destroying the dogwoods, we propose to demand the limit of the punishment which the city can give him."

"Why any person would destroy such a plant and attempt to disrupt a program which will mean so much to Atlanta within a few years is a mystery to me."

The federal government has brought these plants to Atlanta, and federal agencies have aided us in planting them. At the same time, however, the city is expending some money on them. We do not propose to allow vandals to disrupt and thwart so extensive a program. Members of the Fifth District Women's Clubs of Georgia also are aiding and they will assist in apprehending those responsible."

It also was announced that members of the women's organizations will make an inspection tour beginning at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon from the Atlanta Woman's Club auditorium.

in many cases it will mean a larger cost per mile.

By combining the ability of the road engineers through better-made and safer roads with the constant improvement in automobile construction and better ability and training on the part of drivers it is inevitable that America's disgraceful record of automobile accidents will be reduced.

And, it is agreed by all, that the best way of all to improve driving is by educational campaigns such as that which has been conducted by The Constitution and by the signing of pledges, with their simple and easily remembered rules by all drivers.

Every individual should not only sign the pledge that is published in blank elsewhere in this issue, but should learn the seven rules of safety so thoroughly that they become second nature.

It is also important that every driver know the correct hand signals and become so accustomed to them that their constant use when slowing, stopping or turning, becomes second nature. The correct signals are illustrated here. Learn them today and practice them always, every day.

STORY OF ILLEGIT LOVE

her, Cox quoted Mrs. Mayfield. The two women went to the front of the house and there were arrested, he said.

Heard Two Shots.
Cox said he heard one call the other a liar, and then he interfered, asking Mrs. Mayfield to leave. Suddenly a woman was heard to shout, "Leave her alone." Then, he said, Mrs. Mayfield followed Mrs. Dixon back to the workshop and he heard the sound of two shots. He ran to the door in time to see her fire a third bullet.

Mrs. Dixon was hit by the first shot and died soon after the arrival of an ambulance. Pullare and Goldman swore they did not hear Mrs. Dixon say anything to Mrs. Mayfield on the occasion of her second entrance to the factory room. They described the death of Mrs. Dixon, their co-worker, in detail.

Mrs. Mayfield, whose husband is a captain in the fire department, went to police headquarters and gave herself up. It was brought out, she is defended by Ellis Barrett and A. Walton Hall, while Assistant Solicitor John Hudson is conducting the prosecution.

Witness For Defense.
Mrs. Flora Hazelrigg, of 963 Washington street, professed closest confidence of Mrs. Dixon, was first defense witness.

Under questioning by Attorney Hall, she told of Mrs. Dixon being "whipped" by Mrs. Mayfield because Mrs. Dixon continued "going with" the fire captain.

She said Mrs. Dixon told her of going with Captain Mayfield to North Carolina on several occasions, one trip costing the fireman more than $120. The captain also furnished Mrs. Dixon with a car, Mrs. Hazelrigg said.

The defense witness testified that Mrs. Dixon once told her she "went with" Mayfield for his money, that if she kissed him and loved him she could draw his pay check. Hall questioned her also about telephone conversations she had overheard between Mrs. Dixon and Mrs. Mayfield, during which the captain's wife had pleaded with Mrs. Dixon to leave her husband alone, Mrs. Hazelrigg said.

That Mrs. Dixon was a woman who had been with Mayfield for some time, she said, she had seen Mrs. Mayfield for several months before the shooting.

Solicitor Hudson asked Mr. Hazelrigg if she was the woman with Mrs. Mayfield on the fatal day but the witness denied she had seen Mrs. Mayfield for several months before the shooting.

Judge Moore had difficulty keeping the crowded courtroom quiet at times. On several occasions spectators laughed and one man in a brown overcoat was put out at the judge's order.

Mrs. Mayfield sat quietly during the day, with her young son, J. T. Mayfield Jr., at her side.

Talked With Slayer.
Patrolman J. A. Allen, the policeman who was sent to the Crow street factory after the shooting, said persons at the house told him the shooting was done by a "woman dressed in gingham with a sweetheart."

He said about near by streets looking for the murderer of Mrs. Dixon, he said, and on Fulton street saw Mrs. Mayfield with a woman companion. He stopped and asked Mrs. Mayfield if she had seen the woman in gingham. She replied she had not and asked why. Whereupon Allen told her the gingham-clad woman had killed another woman, Mrs. Mayfield walked on and the policeman did not know until he returned to police headquarters that he had talked with the slayer. He said she had on a polka dot suit and dress and therefore he did not suspect her.

Edward C. Mullen, taxi driver, told of taking Mrs. Mayfield from Fulton street to her home, 1000 Park avenue, and from there to headquarters, where she surrendered. She told him all about the killing, he said.

Heard Woman Telephone.
Two other state witnesses told of hearing Mrs. Mayfield telephone her husband from a store near the scene of the murder. I've done what I told you I would do," they quoted her as saying. After a pause, she said "It's too late now. I've already done it just like I said I would."

Ellis Barrett succeeded in bringing out his defense stand from the first state witness introduced by John Hudson.

Hudson presented W. F. Derrington, undertaker who embalmed the body of Mrs. Dixon, and Barrett brought out on cross-examination that Derrington knew both women principals. Despite Hudson's objections, Derrington told of meeting Mrs. Dixon on the street several months before the slaying, at which time she told him of her affair with Captain Mayfield and told her husband that she had been with him for some time.

Barrett sought to show Mrs. Mayfield shot in self-defense by asserting that Mrs. Dixon threw a cigar, made a heavy wooden box, at her as she reentered the factory room on Crow street. He questioned Pullare and Goldman, but both said Mrs. Dixon did not throw the box. They were questioned about broken plaster on the wall behind the place where Mrs. Mayfield stood, but both testified the plaster was knocked off months ago.

Did Not Seem Excited.
The defense also sought to show by cross-examination that Mrs. Mayfield was emotionally upset on the day she killed Mrs. Dixon. However, Pullare, Cox and Goldman all swore she did not appear excited before the shooting.

On the other hand, the taxi driver and several others who saw her after the shooting said she appeared to have been crying.

Barrett asked Pullare if he had removed a pistol from Mrs. Dixon's pocketbook after the shooting but the cigar maker said he only got a cigar from the purse.

Patrolman Allen said Mrs. Mayfield told him later she did not know the woman with her on Fulton street, that the woman had come out of a negro house near by with "liquor on her breath."

NEW COTTON PROGRAM IS PRAISED, CRITICIZED

severe criticisms leveled against the cotton program.

Tom Linder, Georgia commissioner of agriculture, strongly criticized the program.

He said in three years of control "the market for American cotton has been cut in half," adding that "with the new program, the total allotment to American farmers will be about 5,000,000 bales, one-third of a crop."

"Mr. Wallace and his associates in Washington," Linder, "are listed in 'The Red Network,' the book of who's who in communism."

"The intention of that crowd is to give the American market to farmers in other lands. If they can get four more years, they will succeed."

The new cotton program drew a new comment from a number of outstanding growers of Georgia yesterday.

Woman on Trial for Life in Fulton Court

crop basis, said he believed that "cotton farmers of Georgia will not be misled by exaggerated statements of the AAA."

"It has been proven in the past," he continued, "that farmers pay more in taxes than benefits received under government regimentation."

"The sooner the government realizes it is impossible for impractical theorists to devise a workable plan, the better it will be."

"The new plan, as all past programs, penalizes thrift and encourages shiftlessness."

George Adams and W. T. McKee, of the Columbus, Ga., section, said they favored the new control plan with certain exceptions. Adams says the plan will "work fine if the state gets proper allotments, as previous allotments were too small."

McKee said he felt acreage had been cut enough and that the present acreage should have no balance limitations.

Louisiana's state extension director, J. W. Bateman, commented: "We believe the new program will be very much better than the old. It more definitely distributes the benefits between landlords and tenants."

J. Litt Edwards, president of the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation, said the new program "is a basis for making allotments to individual producers and will remove many inequalities of the cotton adjustment program during the next few years."

Farmers Approve Plan.
One hundred Alabama farmers meeting in Montgomery unanimously approved the program.

R. T. Goode, Alabama commissioner of agriculture, said, while he had not sufficient time to thoroughly analyze the program, the new basis for the whole will work to the advantage of the Alabama farmers."

Walter Sillers, large Mississippi delta cotton planter and legislative leader, said:

"I think that controlled production of cotton for the next four years is essential and imperative if the cotton industry is to survive."

"We are not going to lose our cotton markets because of foreign competition any more than we would otherwise," he continued. "We cannot continue to aggravate the cotton surplus without dire results."

Governor Talmadge, of Georgia, who introduced a supreme court test of the Bankhead law, expressed surprise at the proposal for reduction of cotton land by 1,000,000 acres in the new AAA plan.

He withheld further comment "until I have had time to read the plan in its entirety."

W. L. Clayton, one of the world's largest cotton factors, opposed the plan. He commented as follows:

"I do not believe in the government encouraging farmers not to raise cotton or any other product. In other words, I am opposed to agriculture being controlled from Washington."

ADVICE OF FARMERS
SOUGHT BY SEN. BROWN
ATHENS, Ga., Dec. 3.—(P)—Harry L. Brown, agricultural extension service director, said today the advice of farmers throughout Georgia would be sought to provide the most benefits of the new AAA cotton and corn-crop programs for producers.

With many of the surplus crops, Mr. Brown said, future effort will be devoted to maintaining a balance between production and demand. Approximately 139,400 Georgia cotton producers signed the two-year cotton contracts which expire this season, more than 90 per cent of those eligible, it was announced. There were 785 signers of the 1935 corn-crop contracts in Georgia.

lections because of injunctions first was noticeable last June, when the total was approximately $30,000,000. The monthly figure prior to that time had averaged about $40,000,000.

In July the collections dropped to $16,364,401; in August to $12,820,862; and in September to $12,670,283. No figures were available on collections after September, but some slight further shrinkage was expected.

Officials said new taxes on rye and sugar now were effective and the normal rate of collections at present should be about $60,000,000 monthly.

Total collections from May 1933, to September 30, 1935, were $338,500,791.

tering his office when the three men, working near by, seized him and forced him back into his car. With a gun pressed against him, Connors was forced to signal the towerman to open the gate.

Guards did not suspect anything until a filling station attendant several miles from the prison telephoned that the convicts had ordered him to fill up the gasoline tank at the point of a gun.

Oklahoma Prison Break.
Six prisoners broke from the city federal jail in Muskogee, Okla., after critically wounding Chief of Detectives Ben Bolton.

One of the prisoners died soon after the break as the result of wounds inflicted by a policeman's gun.

Four of the five who escaped in a commandeered car were members of the "Irish" O'Malley gang of kidnapers and bank robbers.

A police radio operator said he was jammed in the ribs with a gun by a prisoner he was leading back to a cell after the prisoner had talked with his wife.

Three other prisoners pushed out of the run-around the operator was guarding, ran to a gun room and obtained arms for themselves and others.

THREE ARE SLAIN IN BOSTON BREAK

BOSTON, Dec. 3.—(P)—Three men perished today in the futile attempt of five long-term convicts to escape from the Massachusetts state prison in the Charlestown section. Four others were wounded.

William J. McManus, 27, serving from 21 to 24 years for armed robbery, died tonight at the prison hospital. He had been wounded after a battle with prison guards, and had been identified by a prison instructor as the man who beat to death Louis Richards, 27-year-old Somerville truck driver, the only civilian casualty.

Richards was preparing to load his truck in front of the prison print shop when the gang of convicts set on him, killing him and seizing his truck.

The third to die was Philip Naples, 32, of Worcester, serving a long term for armed robbery, shot by guards as he fled to the nearby freight yard of the Boston & Maine railroad.

The attempted escape, apparently confined to five of the institution's more than 800 prisoners, Commissioner of Corrections Arthur T. Lyman said, started when Richards was slain at his truck seized.

Three Gates Crashed.
Careening over the narrow prison drive from the rear side of the prison, the five men drove the truck through three gates to reach the street. Halted temporarily in their flight by the crippling of the vehicle as it crashed against gates, they seized another waiting to enter the yard.

When they failed to make it run farther than 50 yards, the commander of a third truck, but left their companion, Naples, dying on the street from guard's gunfire.

A former New England amateur boxing champion, Miller "Babe" Wilson, at the wheel of the commandeered truck disobeyed the convicts' curt: "Don't stop or you'll get yours."

Although Wilson said three of the men carried knives, he stopped the truck, flung open a door knocking two of them to the street. Then they fled to the railroad tracks.

The pair, Edward McArdle, 24, Somerville, serving eight to 10 years for armed robbery, and Charles O'Brien, 28, serving 18 to 24 years for armed robbery, were captured by a railroad police lieutenant and a potato distributor, Jack Carp, 27, of Brookline.

O'Brien was wounded in the left leg, Commissioner Lyman said.

Two Others Captured.
The last two caught were William (Red) McManus, 27, serving 21 to 24 years for armed robbery, critically wounded in the chest and abdomen, and Frank Joyce, 21, alias "Turkey" Moriarty, Boston, serving 10 to 15 years for armed robbery.

McManus was shot by police, and guards when he attempted to battle his way to freedom. Joyce, suffering from the gas, surrendered.

Prison guards Edward J. Shaughnessy, 38, of Worcester, and Michael W. O'Donnell, 39, Boston, pursued the prisoners out the drive despite injuries. Shaughnessy, Lyman said, was stabbed in the shoulder and beaten. O'Donnell suffered minor scalp wounds, as did William McDonald, a trustee and lifer who has served nearly 25 years.

DEPUTY WARDEN SEIZED THREE PRISONERS ESCAPE

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 3.—(P) Kidnaping Deputy Warden Ed Connors at the point of a gun and disk, three white convicts escaped from the state penitentiary this afternoon in the officer's car.

Connors reported by telephone a short time later that he had been released unharmed about two miles distant.

J. L. Watts, foreman of the prison hosiery mill, said that the deputy warden had driven his car behind the walls and was entering his office when the three convicts, who had been working in the yard, seized him, shoved him back into his automobile and fled.

Connors, with the gun pressed against the focal point to signal the towerman to open the gate and guards did not suspect that anything was amiss until a filling station attendant several miles from the prison telephoned that the convicts had ordered him to fill up the gasoline tank while threatening him with the gun.

Names of the escaped prisoners were given as George Wilmer Moss, alias Frank Williams, 23, sentenced from Halls, Tenn., to five years for robbery; Gus McCoig, 22, sentenced from White Pine to five years for robbery, and Crawford Peety Dean, 18, serving five years for robbery from Davidson county.

Previously Dr. Cooke had listed John Buck, convicted murderer from Knoxville, among the escaped prisoners, but a check showed that to be incorrect.

Warden A. W. Neely and members of the state highway force joined the hunt for the three convicts.

ONE DEAD, FIVE FLEE
OKLAHOMA PRISON

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Dec. 3.—(P)—Five heavily armed prisoners who fled the city-federal jail today, leaving a sixth confederate dead and a detective chief wounded critically, were believed trapped tonight near Clayton, Oklahoma.

That southeastern Oklahoma town became the focal point in a search of bloodhounds, airplane observers, federal G-men and sheriff's possees. The fugitives' car was found abandoned near Clayton, about 120 miles south of here.

Four of the quintet were Irish O'Malley gangsters, members of one of the worst kidnaping-bank robbing gangs ever formed in the south-west. Officers were prepared tonight for another bloody fight like that marking the jail break here in which John Blackburn, of Conover, Wis., arrested on a mail sack theft charge, was killed and Detective Chief Ben Bolton wounded dangerously.

Beginning of Break.
Shortly before noon, the wife of one O'Malley gangster, Dan Heady, of Kansas City, kissed him goodbye after a jail visit. As she left, Heady flashed a gun.

Seizing more guns in the jail arsenal as Heady covered an attendant, the six dashed toward freedom.

Heady, Dewey Gilmore, of Dallas, Texas, and Russell Cooper, of Fort Smith, Ark., all O'Malley gangsters and convicted of robbing two Oklahoma (Okla.) banks on the same day—a crime few had dared attempt since the days of the Dalton brothers.

The fourth O'Malley confederate, Leonard Short, Galena, Mo., wrestling promoter, convicted of robbing one of the Oklahoma banks.

Don Garrett, Mann act violator, also Blackburn.

Detective Chief Bolton raised his gun to block the convicts' way and was shot through the head.

Police Chief Marsh Corgan appeared in time to wound Blackburn fatally during the flight from prison to the automobile of the Rev. R. H. Hickman, which the fugitives commandeered.

Bloodhounds on Trail.
Bloodhounds were called from the state penitentiary at McAlester after the abandoned automobile was found. Officers said they had surrounded the five convicts in a densely wooded area seven miles west of Clayton.

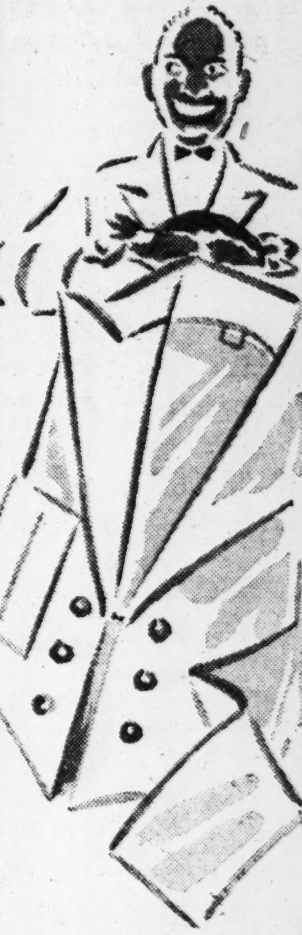

Officers from all sections of the state moved in on the region. An airplane from Tulsa and another from Muskogee dived overhead.

Mrs. Dan Heady, wife of the escaped prisoner, was arrested for questioning.

Bernard was forced to liberate the others.

Two of the quintet, Blackburn and Garrett, were trustees.

PRESIDENT GIVES HINT ON BANKERS' IDENTITY

car and a later plunge in the swimming pool, the President kept his regular semi-weekly press interview as usual on the roadside en route to his Pine Mountain cottage.

Opening the interview from behind the steering wheel, the President observed he was having a good time and there was no news. He just about proved it.

Regarding various reports of the favored site for the next democratic national convention, he said he hadn't thought about the subject and he assumed proposals would come from various cities.

Asked if he was a candidate for reelection, Mr. Roosevelt flicked his cigarette and quickly replied with a smile that the democratic national committee would decide where the convention will be held and the convention will decide who is to be the candidate.

A reporter from New York city asked: "Says Mr. Murphy."

Laughing heartily, Mr. Roosevelt recalled the gestures of the late Charles Murphy, old Tammany boss, incidentally he fought the Murphy Tammany machine in his early days in New York politics.

Hasn't Read Papers.

As for the foreign situation, he said he only knew what he has read in the newspapers and that he hasn't read the papers since last Saturday.

He said he expected to have most of the speech to be delivered next Monday before the American Farm Bureau Federation at Chicago ready before he leaves here Sunday but probably not entirely.

Mr. Roosevelt offered no comment on the resignation of George Peek as president of the Export-Import Bank.

CRISP DOLLARS CRISP HANDS SWEEP CITY

Wrigley Dollars Paid Out To Hundreds All Over City.

BY MR. SPEAR (The Wrigley Representative)

Cold weather holds no terrors for the millions of Americans who love the crisp dollar and me and all our assistants. We're all over the city—down town, in the residence districts, in stores and offices, everywhere in the city and suburbs. We ask you to exchange your old-fashioned, shabby, peppermint gum, try Wrigley's Double Mint. It's the smoothest, finest, and most refreshing peppermint gum you have ever tasted.

MISS JANE KNOWS.

MISS JANE KNOWS, 1362 Peachtree Ave., N. E., was enjoying recess with a number of her friends at a local school when Miss Jane asked if she had an open package of Wrigley's Double Mint. She received her dollar after remarking: "Wrigley's Double Mint is my favorite gum because the flavor is delicious and makes the mouth taste so clean."

DR. F. McLAUGHLIN KIEFFER, Colonial Terrace Hotel, advised: "Wrigley's Double Mint is refreshing, gives pure fragrance to the breath, and keeps the mouth and teeth clean. We haven't space enough to list the names of all the men, women and children who are receiving Wrigley dollars every day, but here are just a few names which have been listed before:

GEORGE BACKS LEAGUE, URGES NEW DEFENSES

000,000 pounds sterling at 1 per cent and the remainder of the sum at 2 1/2 per cent.

When parliament got down to work, the rearmament program as suggested in the king's speech was attacked by the opposition.

Major Clement Attlee, labor leader, said in commons that "increased armaments" was the real point of the address and that the rest was merely "window-dressing and trimmings."

To this criticism, Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin replied, "I am going to lose no chance for this country to get peace instead of war."

The League is on trial, and if the League is able to end this terrible dispute, every lover of peace in Europe will be grateful and thankful."

Oil Blockade Inevitable.

But British officials appeared to regard an oil blockade of Italy as inevitable and were pessimistic. It was said in authoritative circles there is not the slightest indication Italy is ready to talk peace.

There was uneasiness upon news of Secretary Lick's Washington statement that his previous one on exports to Italy had been misinterpreted. Some quarters feared a change in the American stand which might make the application of sanctions more difficult or impossible.

King George assured parliament the government is "determined to use at all times the full weight of its influence for the preservation of peace."

His expressed hope work of naval conference opening here next week "will be crowned with success."

Domestic Problems.

Of domestic issues, he said the government would pay special attention to those areas where the burden of unemployment is greatest and that a measure to unify coal royalties under national control would be introduced and commissioners appointed to inquire into the safety of mine works.

Other domestic government measures forecast by the speech included: 1. Unemployment insurance for farm workers.

2. State guarantees for a railway development loan to be withdrawn from the empire.

3. Development of civil airways both in Britain and throughout the empire.

4. An increase in the school attendance age with further provision for education.

5. Development of social services with vigorous measures to improve health and physique of the nation.

The Governor's remarks were made yesterday in a statement.

He termed as "amusing" the President's statement that the peak of governmental expenditures had been reached.

Talmadge said the "most astounding" statement of the Roosevelt address was that "the majority of the people in the United States were living on a third-class diet and if we had a first-class diet it would require cultivation of more land than ever before."

Does the President think the American people are asleep or doped? the Governor asked. "Recent news dispatches tell of plans to cut crop production even more than what has been done. Does this country owe a duty to a foreign nation greater than to its own people?"

Talmadge predicted that a majority of relief funds provided by the national government will be spent in 1936.

SEC. HULL THREATENS AMERICAN SUBSIDIARY ARMAMENTS SHIPPERS MAY FURNISH DUCE OIL

followed a stormy press conference during the day. At that time he asserted he had been "misunderstood" at his November 21 press conference in urging oil producers to withhold shipments of "war materials" to the belligerents. His words, he said, were "war munitions." Oil is not classed with munitions. Reporters pressed three weeks ago understood him to use the former phrase.

In his formal statement, Lick said he had replied three weeks ago, when asked what American oil producers should do.

"They ought to operate in letter and spirit with the efforts of the government to keep us from furnishing war munitions to belligerents."

Government Policy.

The policy of the government has been to supply only arms and munitions, and to "discourage" the export of belligerent "abnormal" supplies of other materials.

The interior secretary said his press conference was intended to "clearly" a misunderstanding has itself been misinterpreted in some quarters. His words had stirred wide international reaction, and apparently referred to this fact before the end of the year they can obtain 300,000 tons of crude oil from their Albanian wells.

An eight-inch pipeline has been completed to the Albanian port of Valona, where huge reservoirs now are under construction to receive oil which will be shipped thence to Bari, where under government subsidy 70,000,000 lire ($5,670,000) the A. G. I. P. will build a refinery.

The company plans to construct a "hydrogenation" plant from German plans permitting distillation of 80 per cent gasoline from crude oil.

May Cut Into Monopoly.

Exports believe if the Italian project in Albania is successful it may cut deeply into the projected American monopoly.

According to official figures, Italy in 1934 imported crude oil and all by-products to the value of approximately 176,000,000 lire ($14,256,000). This amount increased to about 220,000,000 ($18,500,000) during the first 10 months of 1935.

This business would go exclusively to the S. I. A. P. in event the agreement, concluded last week, is effective.

Announcement of the "gentleman's agreement" will, of course, be a subject for denials but after three days of careful checking the United Press is confident the information given to it is correct.

The news admittedly will have important repercussions in Washington and Geneva.

It should achieve seriously the League's attempt to achieve collective oil sanctions December 12, Russia and Rumania have indicated they will not participate unless assured of at least tacit participation by the United States.

OFFICIAL WASHINGTON WITHHOLDS COMMENT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—(UP)—News of an agreement in which a subsidiary of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey planned to supply oil to the Italian government despite possible League of Nations sanctions, created consternation in official circles tonight.

State Department officials received the United Press report with obvious interest, eager for details of the plan by which petroleum from American controlled wells abroad would be shipped to Italian Italy to lubricate Premier Mussolini's war machine. They declined all comment, however.

They merely reiterated that the government is pursuing a policy completely independent of the League of Nations, intended to keep this nation free from foreign entanglements.

OIL OFFICIALS DENY TIE UP WITH DUCE

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—(UP)—Walter C. Teagle, president of Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, tonight categorically denied that the Italian subsidiary of his company had entered into an agreement with the Italian government to supply Italy oil in event League sanctions on oil were enforced.

In a formal statement to the United Press, Teagle termed such an agreement as impossible of fulfillment and said it sounded like a piece of preposterous propaganda.

Teagle's statement follows: "The only information regarding the reported agreement between the Italian government and the Societa Italiana Americana Del Petrolio for guaranteeing Italy supplies of oil in return for a term monopoly is that telephoned us by the newspapers."

"I can unequivocally deny that any such arrangement has been considered. So far as I know it has not been proposed to our Italian company. Officers of that company know that such a contract would not only be impossible of fulfillment but also would under no circumstances be accepted by us."

"It sounds like a preposterous piece of propaganda."

ANGLO-U.S. TRADE PACT EXPECTED BY SUMMER

ANGLO-U.S. TRADE PACT EXPECTED BY SUMMER

American sales to Great Britain, expected in 1937. Some of Britain's more important trade agreements, like those with Denmark and Argentina, likewise will soon expire. The British are already seeking revision of their Russian trade arrangements as well as important American agreement therefore might be dovetailed into the British economic situation now, whereas a year or more hence it likely would be impossible because of continuance of the more important trade alliances.

Likewise, the British government has just been returned to power for five years, and the political situation is assumed for some time to come. A successful agreement, observers believe, likely would prove popular because the international situation finds more British seriously thinking of developing Anglo-American relations.

Exports Down to 15 Per Cent.

American exports to Great Britain, which have fallen off to scarcely 15 per cent of their great post-war totals, begin with raw cotton and tobacco and include a wide variety of raw materials, machinery, semi-finished products and some metals. British exports to the United States are essentially finished manufactured goods.

Both countries have a great textile industry, now in an ailing condition on both sides of the Atlantic. Textile exports to the United States are essentially finished manufactured goods.

NEGUS ASKS CHURCH TO MAKE PEACE PLEA

Egyptian church retained its monopoly since the time of the pharaohs and the human in Jesus Christ constituted a nature absolutely one, while the group of Christians in the East, the Moslems argued that the Divine and human natures were "conjoined" by a moral and not a metaphysical union.

By ancient rule, no bishop is eligible for the Coptic patriarchate. It is required that a candidate must have spent a period of his life in the desert, a regulation which has resulted in the selection of only monks from desert monasteries.

ITALIANS AND ETHIOPIANS CLASH NEAR MAKALE

By ANDREW BERRING.

WITH THE ITALIAN TROOPS AT MAKALE, ETHIOPIA, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Italy's Eritrean troops met the main body of the Ethiopian northern army face to face today in a clash at outposts on the Dolo-Makale line.

The fighting was over quickly, the Ethiopians retreating almost immediately.

One Italian white soldier was reported wounded. The enemy losses were not known.

Authorities said the skirmish was not the big St. George's Day battle for which they were prepared.

However, they considered it significant because it indicated strong forces on both sides now are within reach of each other.

Coincident with the initial clash, it was announced a number of lieutenants of Degiagu Kassa Selassie, who fought against the Italians recently at Abbi, were submitting to the fascists.

Large Ethiopian forces are advancing toward the Makale front, reports to Italian headquarters said.

HAILE'S SON-IN-LAW IN ASMAR SHOPPING

ASMAR, ERITREA, Dec. 3.—(AP) Ras Gugsa, son-in-law of Emperor Haile Selassie, who deserted to the Italian side in the present conflict, today was a dapper figure among the shoppers.

Now governor of Tigre province by grant of Mussolini, he had come to buy new clothes, perfumes and other gifts for his lady friends and to enjoy civilization generally.

He is quartered at the former Ethiopian consulate, now a hotel for defecting chieftains.

As soon as the war is over, Gugsa said, he intends to go to Europe.

THREE NATIONS' NAVIES CRUISE IN MEDITERRANEAN

By The Associated Press.

An overwhelming bulk of the naval fighting strength of France, Great Britain and Italy cruised or rode at anchor in Mediterranean waters Tuesday.

A French fleet of more than 250 warships sailed for maneuvers yesterday. The maneuvers will be held off the island of Corsica, only 20 miles from Italy's island of Sardinia.

Warships began to mass on the Mediterranean as early as August. Virtually all of Britain's home fleet is there now. France more than 200 warships are stationed in the Mediterranean in those waters. Italy has been active.

Recent estimate was that some 150 British fighting ships are at strategic Mediterranean points as Alexandria, Gibraltar, Malta, Suez, Haifa and Port Said.

France is reported to have guaranteed Britain, at the latter's insistence, that she would support her if the British fleet is attacked by Italy.

Official estimates of Italian concentrations in the Mediterranean are lacking, but it is known she has been grooming both her fleet and air force. Naval leaves were reported only yesterday to have been cancelled.

$500,000 ROAD PAVING READY FOR CONTRACTS

Atlanta-Buford Highway Included in Contracts Set for December 20.

A $500,000 paving program, which will include the concreting of 8.6 more miles of the new Atlanta-Buford highway, will be submitted to contractors December 20, Commissioner Max L. McTear announced yesterday for the State Highway Board.

All projects to be contracted for have been approved by the Federal Bureau of Public Roads, Judge McTear said.

Part of the section of the Atlanta-Buford highway to be paved lies in Fulton county and the balance in DeKalb county. This job will leave only a small portion of the road unpaved. When completed the road will give Atlanta a new all-paved highway to the northeast Georgia and eliminate the necessity of persons going north of Buford using the Lawrenceville road, considered one of the most dangerous in the state.

Other projects to be included in the letting follow:

Paving of 3.12 miles of Route 1 in Polk county.

Paving of 1.9 miles on Broadway within the city of Macon.

Paving of 1.3 miles of the Georgetown-Cuthbert highway in Quitman county.

Paving of 6.8 miles of the Sylva-Waynesboro road in Burke county.

Paving of 2.5 miles of the Blairsville-Blue Ridge highway in Union county.

Paving of 3.9 miles of the Reidsville-Lenoir road in Toombs county.

Paving of 4.1 miles of the Pelham-Cairo road in Mitchell county.

Paving of 1.7 miles within the city of Calhoun in Gordon county.

ELLSWORTH'S VESSEL SPURS SEARCH PLANS

Wyatt Earp Rushes To Pick Up Plane; Will Cache Food for Pair.

(Copyright, 1935, by the North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc., and The New York Times Co.)

ON BOARD M. S. WYATT EARP, ANTAETICA, Dec. 3.—(By Wire)—Lincoln Ellsworth's supply ship is making speedy progress toward Magallanes, Chile, where an airplane will be picked up for aid in laying food depots along the coast of Antarctica.

Tonight, the Wyatt Earp is 220 miles south of Cape Horn and she is expected to reach Magallanes in three days.

Although it is hoped Ellsworth and his pilot, Herbert Hollick-Knyon, completed their transatlantic flight to the Ross Sea, food depots will be left by the Wyatt Earp en route to Ellsworth's objective at the Bay of Whales as a matter of precaution. The flares were last heard from November 23, when they were halfway to the Ross sea.

ROYAL RESEARCH BODY
ORDERS SHIP INTO HUNT

LONDON, Dec. 3.—(P)—The Royal Research Society ship Discovery II has been ordered to participate in the search for Lincoln W. Ellsworth, American explorer missing on a flight to the antarctic, it was officially announced today.

Orders were wireless to the Discovery II, "After course and proceed with all possible despatch" to a convenient Australian port from which the search can be undertaken.

WILHOIT RENAMED STATE BOARD HEAD

Warrenton Man's Election Follows Qualification for New Six-Year Term.

Jud P. Wilhoit, of Warrenton, yesterday was re-elected chairman of the Georgia Public Service Commission. The election followed his qualification Monday for a new six-year term to which he was elected last year. His term as chairman is not fixed, as under the rules of the commission its officers serve at the pleasure of the full board.

Walter R. McDonald, of Augusta, who began a new six-year term Monday, succeeding J. R. (Toke) Daniel, of LaGrange, who was given the post by Governor Talmadge in 1933 when McDonald was ousted with members of the old commission, sat with the board yesterday and joined in voting for Wilhoit as chairman, making the Warrenton man's selection unanimous.

Jack Forester, of Leesburg, was re-elected secretary of the commission. Mr. Wilhoit became chairman of the commission in 1933 when he resigned as a member of the State Highway Board and accepted the appointment of Governor Talmadge to succeed James A. Perry, ousted chairman of the old board. Wilhoit was opposed by Perry in the 1934 primary but was re-elected by a large vote.

ROBBER-GUNMAN STILL AT LARGE

Police of Georgia and Two Carolinians Push Search for Dwight Beard.

With police of North and South Carolina joining Georgia authorities in the search, the bandit suspect who shot and wounded an Atlanta patrolman was still at large last night.

Meanwhile, police here revealed yesterday the suspect had been identified from photographs as a man who attempted to purchase a pistol from L. W. Whitley, of a Forsyth street safe and lock works.

Shown photographs of the suspect, named by police as Dwight Beard, 26, alias R. L. George, Whitley told detectives he was the man who hurriedly entered his store Monday, and asked to see a 45-caliber weapon.

The man left when told the firm did not have the pistol he wanted. Photographs of the suspect also were shown victims of the "uninvited guest" bandit who has recently terrorized the Druid Hills section, in efforts to identify him further.

Apparently successful in finding a "hide-out," search for the suspect has been in progress since last Wednesday when he shot and slightly wounded Radio Patrolman L. P. Jones with a shotgun. The condition of Jones is improving steadily, it was learned.

MISSIONS MEETINGS WILL CLOSE TONIGHT

Miss Blanche Snyder White, of Richmond, Va., state secretary of the Woman's Missionary Union of that state, will be the principal speaker of the closing session of the special week of prayer for foreign missions at the Druid Hills Baptist church at 7:30 o'clock tonight. Miss White will speak on the "Fields of the World," using an electrically illuminated map of the world, indicating the various mission stations by small electric lights that will flash on as she mentions each field.

Dr. C. W. Pruitt, pioneer missionary in China, will have part on the program tonight, as will other prominent Baptist leaders. Miss Mary Christian, state W. M. U. secretary for Georgia, and Miss Miriam Robinson, state leader of the young people, have been among the other guest speakers at Druid Hills this week.

The annual offering as a memorial to Miss Lettie Moon, to be used in the foreign mission work of Southern Baptists, will be received tonight at the Druid Hills church. The public is cordially invited to hear Miss White and witness the use of her illuminated map of the world.

$400,000,000 URGED FOR 1936 ARMY FUND

Record Peacetime Appropriation Is Sought by Rep. Parks.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—(P)—A War Department fund that would boost the nation's spending for military defense to another peacetime peak was projected today as the house appropriations committee started work on the 1936 money bills.

Insisting that "preparation makes for peace," Chairman Parks, democrat, Arkansas, of a subcommittee handling the army measure, asserted he would seek "some increased expenditures" for the War Department. Among other items that fund—this year's appropriation was $400,000,000—would provide:

Additional fighting planes for the army air corps.

Completion of Hawaiian fortifications.

More gun emplacements for the Pacific coast.

Additional housing in Panama and Hawaii.

A larger outlay for pay and subsistence to care for an expansion of the army ordered by congress last session.

The 1935 appropriation for the other national defense branch—the navy—was in excess of $500,000,000 last year. The size of next year's naval budget has yet to be formally outlined.

Parks said he anticipated little trouble in winning approval for larger army expenditures. He mentioned no specific figure.

grant of $140,000 for civic improvements.

A hearing was held yesterday in DeKalb superior court but Judge Davis reserved his decision. The petition contends that the voting list of Decatur was illegally purged and that the polls stayed open after 6 o'clock at night.

Labor Relations Board Hearing Develops Attack on Wagner Bill

More guns were trained yesterday on the National Labor Relations Act in the investigation of labor conditions at the Beaver Mills and Lois Mills, of Douglasville, Ga., a full day of testimony being packed into a record that ultimately will be carried into the United States supreme court, where the legality of the Wagner bill will be put to test.

Pope F. Brock, attorney for the mills, in the hearing yesterday before Trial Examiner Walter Wilbur, who came from Charleston, S. C., to conduct the hearing for the Labor Relations Board, avoided the fireworks that have characterized previous hearings and pounded steadily on the main points of the mills' defense, which are these:

Congress exceeded its authority in vesting the executive branches of the government with the power to regulate contractual relations between employer and employee in local and intrastate enterprises; congress has no right these demands, formal charges are filed with the Labor Relations Board and the results of the hearings in the various mill cities are forwarded to the National Labor Relations Board in Washington, where testimony is examined and decisions made as to whether the employer will be ordered to meet the demands of labor.

If the mills refuse to comply with the orders from the board, it will be necessary for the board to seek a court order from the circuit court of appeals by filing formal charges. Then the real battle will start on the legality of the act.

Civilian President on Stand.

W. S. O'Neal, proprietor of a drug store in Douglasville and president of the Civilian Club of that city, supplied the chief source of lively interest in the hearing yesterday when, from the witness stand, he admitted that the Civilian Club had sponsored a petition circulated among the mill workers, protesting against the mill being molested by "outside interference."

Attorney Frank A. Constaney, representing the United Textile Workers, pounced on this invasion by the Civilian Club of the employer-employee battle within the mill.

"When you speak of 'interference' did you mean the National Labor Relations Board?"

"Yes, sir."

"And the United Textile Workers?"

"Why, we meant anyone else."

"What did all this mean to the Civilian Club?"

"We were afraid of confusion in the mill. We wanted the mill to run along without confusion."

"Did you believe the board or the United Textile Workers would cause confusion?"

Given Extra Pay.

Tom Worthan, a worker at the mill, who helped to circulate the Civilian Club's petition among the employees, admitted he was given extra work and extra pay as a policeman in the mill three weeks after the petition was circulated.

Owners of the mill maintained they have operated in spite of losses and that employees and citizens have "induced them to remain open."

While mill owners declare they have preserved the old NRA maximum number of working hours and the minimum wage scale, labor forces are pro-

ALLEGED KNIFE USER HELD IN HEAVY BOND

Charged with attacking two Atlanta youths with a knife while allegedly attempting to steal an automobile, a Carrollton man was held in $1,500 bond for the grand jury yesterday.

The man, who gave his name as M. D. Buchanan, was arraigned in recorder's court. Fred Boyles, 19, 112 Plum street, and Harold L. Graham, 20, Route No. 3, Atlanta, testified the defendant cut them with a knife when they tried to prevent theft of a car.

The youths were not seriously hurt. The alleged attempt to steal the machine, owned by Mrs. S. G. Reynolds, 22 Tenth street, N. E., occurred in front of Boyles' home, according to police.

Testing an increased amount of work is being demanded of the employees. The hearing will be resumed today in the circuit court of appeals room in the old postoffice building.

BIDS TO BE OPENED ON DISPOSAL PLANTS

Bids for grading on three disposal plants to be constructed as a part of the sewer modernization program for metropolitan Atlanta will be opened at 11 a. m. Thursday, December 12, at the city hall, it was announced yesterday.

At the same time announcement was made that the scheduled regular meeting of the purchasing committee at 2 o'clock Tuesday, December 10, will be postponed and that all purchasing business will be transacted at the same meeting at which the sewer grading bids will be opened. Grading for the Clayton, South River and Intrenchment creek plants are the ones involved. These projects will be done by contract through PWA.

Bids also will be opened for 1936 tax bills at the same time.

Alfalfa is the oldest plant, so far as known, to be cultivated solely for forage.

WPA FARM MARKETS TOPIC AT CONFERENCE

Details of Plan Announced
Following Meeting of Agricultural Officials.

Local sponsors of farm markets under the $577,000 WPA plan for Georgia must furnish the buildings sites and 50 per cent of the material costs, it was announced yesterday following a conference of officials.

C. G. Garner, who headed a delegation of state agricultural extension service officials from Atlanta at the meeting with R. L. MacDougall, assistant WPA administrator, made the announcement.

"We plan to put these facilities only where they are needed," Garner said. "This thing is so planned that it will not conflict with the state system of markets."

Commissioner of Agriculture Tom Linder had called the federal market plan "foolish" and complained of duplications with his proposed chain of markets. Some of the state markets are now being erected.

Following the conference with the extension service officials, MacDougall added:

"In the event a facility is badly needed and local sponsors cannot make full contribution, it (the project) will be given every consideration and an attempt made to work it out."

Garner, who is marketing specialist for the extension service, was accompanied here by L. E. Farmer, marketing specialist of the settlement administration, and G. L. Johnson, extension service engineer.

This group will act as state-wide sponsors for the plan, together with Harry Brown, director of the extension service; R. J. Richardson, extension service poultry marketing specialist; Mrs. Lelia R. Mize, women's marketing specialist of the extension service, and county and home demonstration agents throughout the state. MacDougall said the extension service would send out people to confer with county or city officials and producers in the various communities. They are to assist in writing up the projects and getting sponsorship agreements from county or city officials.

Standardized Type.
Garner said most of the markets would be of a standardized type, except as to size. In approximately 30 instances, he added, they are to replace "makeshift markets" now operating under handicaps because of lack of facilities.

Other markets under the state-wide plan are to range from small hog pens to large cattle and hog auction barns, which Garner said would be similar to the one now in operation at Albany, Ga.

"The plan may possibly include two level apple storage projects, three or more meat storage projects, and a large number of warehouses for packing, grading and assembling produce," Garner said.

He said locations have not been selected for the apple and meat projects.

In all cases where markets are established, he said, the facilities must be operated by local producer associations.

ATLANTAN INJURED

Woman's Arm Broken When Auto Collide.

An Atlanta woman suffered a broken right arm and a possible fractured right knee at about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon when the car in which she was a passenger collided with another machine at Seminole and Cleburn avenues, N. E.

The woman, Mrs. Carl H. Addie, 650 Sixth street, was taken to Grady hospital. According to police, she was riding in a car driven by Joe Rainwater, 618 Cameron street, N. E., which collided with a car driven by Mrs. D. T. Smith, 1450 Metropolitan avenue.

Rainwater was charged with driving while intoxicated and reckless driving, according to police. Both cars were badly damaged. The injured woman's condition is not serious.

The condition of John Cooper, 15, of Fairburn, injured Monday in an automobile crash on the Fairburn road, between Palmetto and Fairburn, was reported as critical yesterday at Crawford W. Long Memorial hospital.

Denver Hardy and Roscoe Williams, Fairburn negroes, injured in the same accident, were reported in serious condition yesterday by doctors at Grady hospital.

CLUES ARE LACKING IN HUNT FOR BANDIT

Lack of clues presented a problem to police yesterday as two detectives were assigned to investigate the daylight holdup in Whitehall street Monday which netted bandits $3,975.

Detectives P. R. Duley and W. L. Tyson were assigned to the investigation, and it was revealed the only clue to the holdup is that one of the bandits was exceptionally tall.

Police also revealed yesterday that none of the $180 in checks, part of the loot, have made their appearance anywhere in the city and that the bandits missed $300 which R. K. Carrigan, assistant manager of the W. T. Grant Company, the victim, carried in a pocket.

CHARGES DISMISSED AGAINST W. M. MAYO

Charges of disorderly conduct by arson booked Monday against W. M. Mayo, city fireman and son of a former police chief, in connection with a fire at Mayo's home, 317 Grant Park place, were dismissed yesterday in recorder's court.

Assistant Chief W. P. Barker, of Engine House No. 5, said the case was made against Mayo after firemen had found piles of paper in the residence. Mayo had been on leave of absence for several weeks because of ill health.

CREATIVE ARTISTS FEATURE PROGRAM

Music Club Sponsoring
Event Honoring Atlanta
Painters, Composers,
Poets, Etc.

Works of Atlanta painters, poets, composers and other artists will be presented in the Atlanta Woman's Club this morning. The Atlanta Music Club is sponsoring the program, with Ruth Hinman Carter as chairman.

Painters whose works will be shown include E. Paxton Oliver, Mary Elizabeth Hutchinson, Mrs. Harold Bush-Brown, Kate Edwards, Benjamin Shute, Athon Menaboni, Robert Rogers, Maurice Siegler, George Ramey, Mrs. Alan Abele, Marian Otis, Mrs. A. Farnsworth Drew, Douglas Wright, Lee Edwards and Harold Sheffield. Laurence Tompkins, Julian Harris and Fritz Zimmer, sculptors, also will exhibit.

Mrs. Merrill Hutchinson will give readings from the poetry of Daniel Whitehead Hickey, Minnie Hite Moody, James Warren Jr., Dr. W. F. Melton, Laura Boyd Shallenberger, Marguerite Steedman and others.

A musical program, featuring music by local composers, will be presented in the auditorium at 10:45 o'clock. Afterwards a luncheon will be given in honor of the artists.

Millie Strange Edison will exhibit her works in hand-wrought pewter and several objects in enamel. The exhibits were arranged by Robert S. Rogers, of the High Museum of Art, and Julian Harris, sculptor. A nominal admission fee will be charged non-members, it was said.

CITY TAX COLLECTIONS SHOW $272,469 GAIN

Statement of Items on 1935
Tax Digest, However, Far Under Anticipations.

Current year tax collections in Atlanta for the first 11 months of 1935 showed an increase of $272,469.47 over the corresponding period of 1934, according to figures compiled yesterday by City Comptroller B. Graham West.

At the same time, Joe C. Little, senior tax assessor, filed with West a statement of items on the tax digests for 1935 amounting to $333,064,917, a shortage of $11,935,083 from the $345,000,000 anticipated, and representing a revenue deficit of $179,026.24 for the year.

The major shortage in anticipations is from intangibles, according to Little, who asserted that of the $89,593,631 in personal properties on the digests, only $36,807,364 consists of intangibles while the remaining $52,786,267 is composed of tangible personal property. It had been estimated that personal properties would total $100,000,000.

Tax collections for the first 11 months of 1935 were $4,024,715.61 as compared to $3,752,246.14 for the same period of 1934. The 1935 figure was $79,440.39 for 1934 taxes and previous years, while the 1934 figure was $1,069,005.16 for 1933 and previous years. This is a difference of $309,464.77 and makes the total tax collections for 1935 $36,995.30 less than for 1934.

Another unusual fact disclosed by the number of 1935 fi. fas. issued and compared to those of 1934 was that in 1935 19,078 fi. fas. have been written, as compared to 18,078 in 1934.

inal admission fee will be charged non-members, it was said.

Pushball To Climax Emory Freshman Day

Climaxing Emory University's Freshman Day, the traditional pushball game between the freshmen and sophomores will be held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon on the athletic field. If the freshmen lose, they must wear their "rat" caps for the remainder of the year, but may remove them if they win.

During the day all freshmen must appear on the campus with their clothes on backward, shoes mismatched, and must wear signs telling their names and home towns. Every upper classman must be bowed to, all bridges crossed backward, steps backed up and down, and lunch must be eaten with a knife.

There also are 2,890 more on the tax records for 1935 than there were for 1934.

The $333,064,917 carried on the digests so far this year is divided as follows:

Real estate, $243,471,286 and personal property, $89,593,631.

YULE SHOPPER PAGED BY POLICE RADIO CAR

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Dec. 3. (AP)—Mrs. Henry J. Sloan, winter visitor from New York city, was successfully paged by a police radio car while Christmas shopping in the downtown section yesterday, when her husband became ill in Williams park.

Mr. Sloan was taken to city hospital, where his condition is said to be serious.

FLORIDA REALTY SALES SHOW SHARP INCREASE

ORLANDO, Fla., Dec. 3. (AP)—Real estate sales in the state during the first nine months of 1935 were reported by Mrs. Violet Dunham, secretary to the Florida Association of Real Estate Boards, to have totaled $33,125,478.

The figure exceeded total sales for 1930, best year since the boom days of 1925 and 1926.

MERGER AID ASKED FOR CITY MANAGER

White Wants Commission To Take Definite Stand
on Proposal.

Councilman John A. White, proponent of the city manager form of government for Atlanta, yesterday demanded that the consolidation commission, which has recommended a seven-point program for merger of Atlanta and Fulton county governments, take a definite stand regarding the city manager move.

In a letter to Dr. Charles Ross Adams, chairman of the Fulton county commission and chairman of the consolidation group, White sought an expression from the commission to the effect that the merger proposal is not an attempt to sidetrack the city manager agitation.

"If your commission will pass some kind of resolution assuring the public that such (blocking the city manager plan) is not the intention, and regardless of whether the people approve or disapprove the merger proposition, the commission will lend its full support and assistance in helping to put the city manager plan before the people. I do not think there will be any further difficulty in council approving the merger proposal," the White letter read.

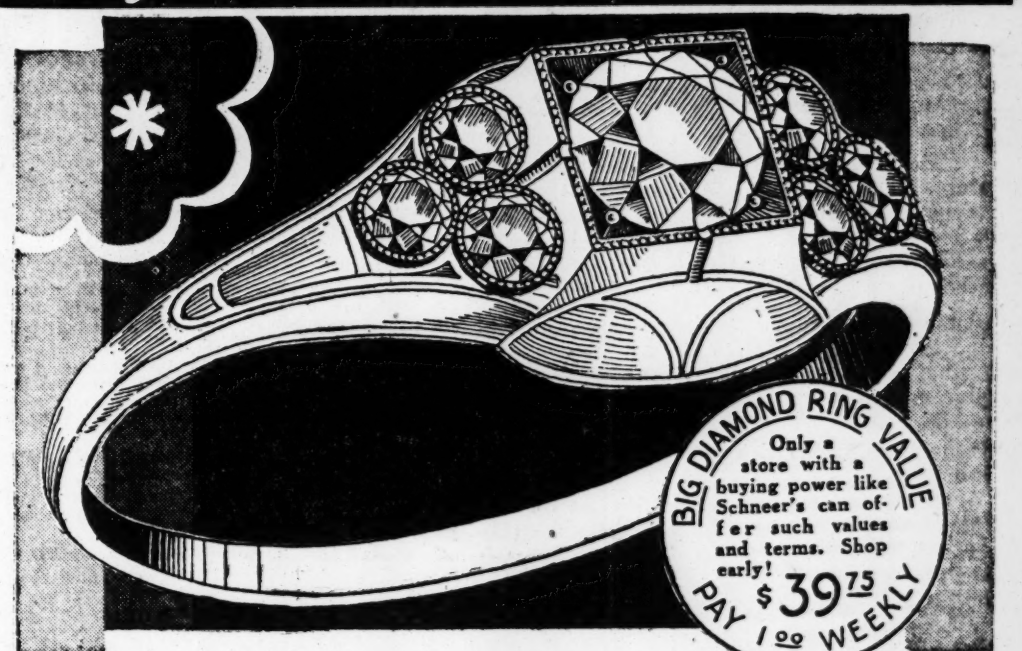

White's demand that the commission get solidly behind the city manager program came as Mayor Key and others prepared for another meeting of the consolidation group to lop amendments from the merger measure and prepare to submit it to the voters of Atlanta and Fulton county as it was originally drafted.

Dr. Adams called a meeting of the commission for 10 o'clock Wednesday morning, December 11, at the city hall.

L. S. U. Will Meet Texas Christian in Sugar Bowl Classic

I think it was Oliver Twist who first started this business of trying to fill a bowl.

It led to complications.

And if the various chambers of commerce do not quit this business of bowls they soon will laugh the whole business out of existence.

The Rose Bowl began as a chamber of commerce stunt. The section about Pasadena, where a furious real estate drive was on, wanted the world to know that while the remainder of the nation shivered in cold and snow, the people of Pasadena were enjoying flowers and festivals.

The Rose Bowl remains a promotion stunt, but it has grown beyond that. It is a spectacle, but I still think it is a magnificent tribute to any team to be invited and to play there. It is a fitting reward for what players have accomplished. It lets a lot of kids to see a lot of their country. They meet people from another section. And it all takes place during the holidays. No schooling is lost. It is a great thing for the boys.

The Rose Bowl promoter thought of his plan first. That always is a good idea. And the fact his imitators are 35 years late with their imitations, doesn't help out their cause.

The Sugar Bowl game got away well last year. The name is a little inappropriate in these days of slang when sugar means, not a sweet crystalline compound, but money. Yet, the Sugar Bowl people meant well. They named their game that because the Tulane bowl, where the game is played, was in the old sugar bowl section of New Orleans in the old sugar cane days.

But following in the wake of the Sugar Bowl comes the Orange Bowl, the Manufacturer's Finger Bowl, the What-Have-You Bowl? and so forth and so on.

There is a growing sentiment to withhold teams from these games and if the various chambers of commerce do not quit trying to imitate something which began 35 years ago in Pasadena they will ruin the entire business.

At that it is amusing to watch some of our highly moral institutions who mourn so about scholarships, scrambling so undignifiedly for the dough they think will be found in the various bowls. It makes a difference.

But I must again recall the lesson of Oliver Twist. His bowl was left very empty indeed.

THE DAFFINESS CONTINUES.

Once the football season ends, there seems to be a release of more than a little daffiness. It is the period for all sorts of proposals. The latest one is for a 12-man football team. There was another for a team of eight men.

The officials can't watch 11 men, although there are four officials, which leaves each official just 2 3/4 players to watch. Twelve men would be entirely too many. Eight might be the right number for officials. But not for football.

The next bit of daffiness will be the All-America selections by boards. The gentlemen solemnly will get together and nominate 11 players, being careful, for the sake of newspaper circulation, to name one from the east, one from the west, one from the middle west, one from the coast, one from the south and so on until all sections are included.

These selections will not mean a great deal but will be a part of the annual December madness. Staid gentlemen who run banks and other large business, and who sit by and see politicians steal the streets away or the roof off the city hall and make no protest, will become upset over the All-America selections. They will write letters denouncing the failure to include a halfback or a guard at their alma mater and blame the entire matter on prejudice and threaten to cancel their subscriptions to the paper.

The football season was merry enough with its campaigns to elect all those taking drinks, the exposure of Clois Francis Key at U. C. L. A., who had played on three or four high school and on two college teams, the fights over goal posts, the charge by the governor of Ohio that some of the players were hired by the state and so on.

COLONEL HUSTON SCORES VICTORY.

Hence, it was refreshing to hear from Colonel Tillinghast I. Hommedieu Huston, on Butler Island, that one of his cows has won a milk championship.

It is not the first championship the colonel has won. He was half owner of the New York Yankees when they won a great many of their championships. And it was the colonel who insisted Babe Ruth be purchased from the Red Sox.

Now it seems that Minnie Pontiac Katie Paul, a Holstein cow, has surrendered more milk than any other cow in the history of the state.

The colonel is very good to his cows. Last year he held a reception for one of his prize bulls for which he had paid a tidy sum of something like $12,000. There were some 2,000 or 3,000 people who came out to salute the bull.

The colonel also believes in education for his cows and bulls. A year ago he gave a graduation party for one of his bulls which had just completed a year's course of study at the University of Georgia agricultural college. This also was widely attended. The fact the colonel had an elaborate barbecue and party may have helped the attendance.

Any time now the invitations should be out for the party for Minnie Pontiac Katie Paul, the champion Holstein cow.

From baseball champions to cow champions is quite a leap, but the colonel is a versatile man.

DIXIE COACHES FAVOR, OPPOSE SLOW WHISTLE

Coach Alex Cites Reduction in Number of Injuries.

By Kenneth Gregory.

Associated Press Sports Writer.

An assertion by Frank Lane, Big Ten football official, that the game as played this season was just "glorified basketball" and that the "slow whistle" and attendant lateral passing had made blocking a "lost art" has stirred debate among southern coaches, favorable and otherwise.

Some take the view that the "slow whistle" and lateral passing have brought about an increase in injuries by decreasing the protection for ball carriers, while others see no reason to become alarmed.

William A. Alexander, of Georgia Tech, whose team utilized the lateral pass about as often as any team in Dixie, disagrees with Lane's views entirely.

"It has been a very interesting season," he says. "There has been good blocking and good tackling. The slow whistle helps the game and does not cause injuries."

ANDERSON PLEASED.

Heartily (Hunk) Anderson, of North Carolina State, agrees with Lane that laterals should be permitted only behind the line of scrimmage and is of the opinion the slow whistle has resulted in additional injuries. He does not believe blocking has become a "lost art."

"The slow whistle," he says, "encourages roughness and piling on, but the largest increase in injuries has been on teams where adequate coaching is not provided."

"Good blocking is needed and you must have it even though you are passing, throwing laterals and what not. Blocking today, at least some of it, is just as good as it was in the past. It is needed just as badly."

Bill Britton, Tennessee head coach, says he is heartily in favor of going back to the old rule by which the referee calls the ball dead when the player's forward progress is stopped.

BRITTON SAYS NO.

"I cannot conceive," Britton says, "of a body of men spending two years studying injuries and rewriting the best possible protection, then immediately allowing the rules to be changed so that there is no protection given the man with the ball. If that is not enough, it seems to me that instead of making the game more interesting to the spectators the new rule has brought about a sloppy performance, creating a doubt in the ball carrier's mind, the blocker's mind and the tackler's mind."

Disagreeing with the slow whistle, Coach Bernie H. Moore, of Louisiana State, says he has seen at least one very fine back slowed down by the "possibly knocked out of an All-America possibility" by attempting a lateral after being tackled.

"I think," he says, "that the normal whistle, as in the past, is the only safe thing."

I am opposed to limiting the lateral behind the line of scrimmage. I think there are some fine possibilities from the forward lateral after forward pass interception. These plays may be executed without a slow whistle.

NO CHANGE HERE.

Don C. McAllister, head coach at South Carolina, says he can "see no reason to become unduly alarmed" by the past season's experience.

"With hundreds of thousands playing football," he says, "accidents are bound to happen and at this time of the year there is a general tendency to bring up this subject."

"My opinion is that the value of the lateral pass has opened up the game and added thrills, has resulted, for one, would like to see the matter let alone until given a longer trial. Gate receipts have had a considerable increase in the past year or two over the 'depression' era and I think if we let good enough alone for a while it may prove complimentary to our cause."

Frank Thomas, of Alabama, agrees that the slow whistle has been responsible for injuries and for that reason doesn't favor the rule.

Carl Shavelly, pilot at North Carolina, is not so critical of the increased use of the lateral pass as he is of the slow whistle rule.

PILING ON.

"I believe," he says, "that most of the knee injuries this year, and there have been a great many of them, have resulted from piling on the runner or runner or tackling him as he remained on his feet trying to evade the ball on lateral passes after the whistle should have blown."

I am not inclined to believe that many of these injuries have resulted fatally or that the increase in fatalities is due principally to this cause. I rather would think that the increase of fatalities is the result of an increased number of boys playing football this year as a result of improved economical conditions.

Inasmuch as most of this increased playing has been done by independent clubs where medical attention, training and playing conditions are far from being ideal, some undesirable results are only to be expected."

Coach Jess Neely, of Clemson College, says he believes one will find that the successful teams of 1935 spent much more time on their blocking and tackling as ever before.

"I see nothing to be alarmed about as the game was played this year," he says. "The lateral pass has a place in our offense; however, it will not take the place of our blocking and tackling. I have not seen a single injury due to the slow whistle."

They're Ready for Charge - - - Over the Hardwood

The three Tech football players shown above have discarded their shoulder pads and helmets for the scantier attire of basketball. They reported with the Jacket basketball squad yesterday at the naval armory. It was a sort of day of readjustment for the trio, all sophomores. They had to get used to that round ball. ## Orange Bowl Day of Readjustment Opponents Unnamed

Basketball Practice Gets Under Way at Tech; Razzle Dazzle Is In Prospect.

By Jack Troy.

It was a day of readjustment for three Tech huskies, was yesterday at the naval armory.

For virtually three months they have been handling a football, throwing and receiving laterals, running with the ball.

And yesterday, after a one day's rest, the trio reported to Coach Roy Mundorff, Tech basketball coach, for the opening practice. It was, as said, a day of readjustment.

There were such things to remember as no running with the ball and the fact that they could pass forward, backward, or, for that matter, in any direction and at any time.

Fletcher Sims, quarterback; Bill Jordan and Ed Jones, ends, said they were fresh and ready for a hard campaign of basketball. "The one-day rest was all we needed."

In good shape. They reported, of course, in great condition. Jones had a slightly injured wrist, but outside of that the sophomores showed no indications of having just completed a hard year of football.

Coach Mundorff is looking to all three sophomores as real prospects for the Tech basketball team this year. They were great as freshmen players. Lawrence Hays, star varsity back

Matmen Draw In Clever Battle

Cy Williams, former University of Florida football star and Dave Roche, Scranton, Pa., coal miner, wrestled to a brilliant draw Tuesday night at the Atlanta theater in the main match of Henry Weber's weekly card.

It was easily one of the greatest matches that has been seen here in months.

Roche won the first fall with a cradle rock in 18 minutes and Williams, using an arm lock as his main weapon, squared accounts in 40 minutes. The remaining 22 minutes of the one hour and a half were full of whirlwind offensive and clever defensive holds by both wrestlers.

In the semi-final, Whiskers Savage, of Kentucky, beat Tom Marvin in straight falls. Savage was never off his feet and made quick work of Marvin.

Bill Middlekauff and Sam Carter opened the card in an interesting 30-minute preliminary, which ended all even.

GIRL CAGER WINS.

S. E. C. SANCTION OF TIGERS' PLAY HARDLY DOUBTED

Great Texas Eleven Is Unanimous Choice of Committee.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 3.—(P)—Louisiana State University and Texas Christian University were selected tonight as the teams to play in the annual Sugar Bowl football game here on New Year's Day.

The Midwinter Sports Association, which sponsors the annual classic, said L. S. U. had accepted a bid subject to approval by the Southeastern Conference.

Officials had little doubt, however, that the Southeastern Conference would grant L. S. U. permission to play as it had permitted Tulane to go into last year's game. The Southwest Conference, of which T. C. U. is a member, voted blanket approval of such contests last year.

ACCEPT AT ONCE.

Warren V. Miller, president of the Midwinter Sports Association, said L. S. U. had accepted a bid subject to approval by the Southeastern Conference. T. C. U. had accepted the invitation, Wright was en route with the team to California where T. C. U. is scheduled to play Santa Clara Saturday.

T. P. Heard, L. S. U. athletic director, accepted for that school.

"We discussed other teams, but when the vote was taken the committee's decision was unanimous," Miller said.

The committee had been in session for two hours before a decision was reached.

Both L. S. U. and T. C. U. are rated as among the strongest teams of the nation, although both have been defeated once.

ONLY TO RICE.

L. S. U. lost its first game of the season to Rice, 10 to 7, barely missing winning that contest because a touchdown was a fumbled kick as a result of a penalty. The Louisiana powerhouse then went through a difficult nine-game schedule climaxed by the staggering 41-0 defeat handed Tulane last Saturday.

T. C. U. was undefeated until it lost a thrilling contest to Southern Methodist University last Saturday, 20-14. S. M. U. by virtue of the victory, won a bid to the Rose Bowl game in California. T. C. U. had won 10 games before the defeat.

Louisiana State's season record follows:

L. S. U. 7: Rice 10.
L. S. U. 18: Texas 6.
L. S. U. 35: Manhattan 0.
L. S. U. 13: Arkansas 7.
L. S. U. 7: Vanderbilt 7.
L. S. U. 6: Auburn 7.
L. S. U. 28: Miss. State 13.
L. S. U. 13: Georgia 0.
L. S. U. 56: Southwestern La. Institute 0.
L. S. U. 41: Tulane 0.
Texas Christian's record follows:

OLD ELI STAFF IS REAPPOINTED

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Dec. 3.—(P)

The Yale varsity football coaching staff headed by Raymond W. (Ducky) Pond was reappointed today together with the entire corps of junior varsity coaches. El officials did not announce the terms under which Pond will return in 1936 for his third successive year, but it was assumed generally his reappointment as well as that of his associates was for one year.

Besides Pond, whose eleven year won six out of nine games, the varsity coaching staff comprises Earl (Greasy) Neale, backfield coach; Denny Myers, who has been in charge of the line, and Ivan Williamson, end coach.

Stewart Scott heads the entire varsity staff. His associates are Walter Levering, backfield coach, and Jerry Ford, line coach.

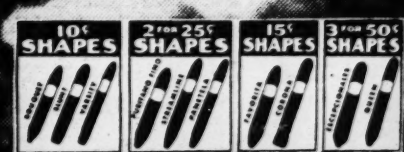

Sticking to Quality Has Made Leadership Lasting

NINETEEN years ago the first El Producto advertisement appeared. It promised a quality cigar for real enjoyment.

Through thick and thin, El Producto has stuck to Quality. Only the finest tobaccos, so necessary to the balanced blending of mildness with sparkling taste, have ever gone into the making. Only the best workmanship—only the greatest care in every step from tobacco field to consumer's pocket—these are the items of Quality that have built the great army of El Producto smokers.

Every El Producto keeps its promise of real enjoyment—and there's nothing like a pocketful to promote "satisfied" smoking. Ask for the size that suits your fancy.

You'll find the uncopiable El Producto blend both in slender, streamline shapes and full-bodied perfect sizes. 10c to 25c

TEXAS AND THE ROSE BOWL.
The first few pedestrians from Texas will be under way for the Rose Bowl in a day or so. Automobiles will follow next. Then the special cars will be moving westward. The guests today is that over 2,500 Texans will inhale the rose bowl's fragrance at the New Year's Day game as Southern Methodist moves out against Stanford in Palo Alto's third attempt to win a Rose Bowl game. For the first time in football history, Texas and the southwest have broken through the Pasadena barrier, and Texas intends to be there to see the show, win, lose or what not.

And I can extend you an inside tip—Texas doesn't expect to lose.

There is a fair chance that Texas A. & M. may smear S. M. U.'s spotless record on Saturday, for S. M. U.'s major interest in this moment is centered on the west coast.

A defeat for S. M. U., which would not be a startling event under present conditions, would not affect the New Year's show, as Stanford also has suffered a defeat. But Texas A. & M., moving up rapidly in the last few weeks, hasn't turned this trick yet.

The Mustangs are a little tired and somewhat battered up at this moment, but they still have some football players left before they begin reorganizing for the Bowl party. By that date they expect to have Shuford ready, and Shuford, 192-pound blocking and running back, happens to be an important member of the S. M. U. cast. It is expected that Major Bob Newland, who is expected to be right and ready again in about two weeks.

In the meanwhile, T. C. U. is on its way to Santa Clara, with Lawrence, a star running and blocking back, still crippled. This T. C. U. Santa Clara show will give a pretty fair line on the Stanford-S. M. U. meeting, and Santa Clara will see the air full of footballs before the day is over.

IRISH SHOW WAY TO U. S. ELEVEN, DRAWING 483,018

Duke-North Carolina Game Sets New High in South.

By Alan Gould.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—(AP)—College football turnstiles, registering a steady upturn since the depression "low" of 1932, clicked off substantial increases in attendance for the 1935 season. The gains ranged as high as 40 per cent in some noteworthy instances, but the increase in the country as a whole probably did not exceed 10 per cent.

According to figures obtained in a nationwide Associated Press poll, 29 out of 47 major colleges enjoyed increased attendance. The remaining 18 either reported decreases or that they were "about even" with 1934. A policy of secrecy concerning attendance was revealed at several institutions, including Columbia.

The gains generally were more marked along the eastern seaboard during one of the sport's most exciting seasons, but the middle west and far west also contributed heavily to the attendance figures. The south counted its biggest football crowd of all time when 48,800 saw Duke upset North Carolina at Durham on November 16. Tulane topped the entire south in attendance with 425,000, and a record Rocky mountain crowd of 25,660 saw Colorado beat Denver on Thanksgiving Day.

NOTRE DAME GAINS.

Notre Dame, with its best team in five years, proved the country's biggest drawing card by a big margin. The Irish helped attract 483,018 fans in nine games. This represented a big jump over their 1934 mark of 357,000 for eight contests.

For the first time on record, Navy outdrew Army. The Midshipmen played before 300,000 in eight games, while the Cadets attracted 354,000 in the same number of engagements. Last year the figures were 325,000 for the Army and 300,000 for the Navy. Princeton, thanks to the interest in its unbeaten campaign, showed a tremendous increase. The Tigers drew 200,000 in nine games, as compared with 175,000 in eight contests a year ago. Yale also registered a substantial gain, with 362,000 for nine games, 100,000 more than the Elis attracted in eight contests last year.

GOLDEN BEARS FIRST.

California's Golden Bears displaced Southern California as the Pacific coast's No. 1 drawing card, attracting 40 games in which the Bears participated was estimated at 394,000. Ohio State and Minnesota were rivals for attendance honors in the Big Ten, with the Bucks enjoying a slight margin, thanks to the capacity crowd of 71,018 that paid to see the Notre Dame thriller at Columbus. The Buckeyes topped only by the attendance of 90,000 for the California-Stanford game. Army's games with Notre Dame in New York and at Philadelphia each attracted 80,000.

Attendance at all home games in the Big Six group passed the 300,000 mark, including games at Attleboro and Oklahoma. Rocky mountain crowds just about held their own, on the whole, with 170,000 reported for 19 games at Denver, Colorado and Utah universities, the main drawing cards.

TEXAS INCREASE.

The intense rivalry of Southern Methodist and Texas Christian universities in the southwest swelled both schools' No. 1 drawing card, attracting 1934. The crowd of 32,000 that packed T. C. U.'s stadium last Saturday was the second largest in southwest conference history. Thanks to the crowd of 12,000 that packed Methodist in action at Los Angeles, against U. C. L. A., the Mustangs outdrew their rivals, 166,800 to 121,000, in each having one game yet to be played.

Forham, Colgate, Brown, Cornell and Pittsburgh in the east, Tulane and Vanderbilt in the south, Tulane and Vanderbilt in the far west, Purdue and Wisconsin in the Big Ten were among the colleges reporting decreases. Tabulation of leading southern and southwest attendance figures follows:

| Team           | Games | Attendance |
|----------------|-------|------------|
| Notre Dame     | 9     | 483,018    |

Williamson System Ranks L. S. as Best in Nation

No. 1 place among the nation's football team is awarded Louisiana State University by the Williamson system of rating. L. S. U. won the Southeastern conference title.

While the table is not final, it covers a completed season for most of the teams.

In second place is Southern Methodist University, southwest winner and "eastern" choice for the Rose Bowl game. Unbeaten Minnesota ranks third, with Texas Christian University fourth. Unbeaten Princeton is fifth, with Stanford sixth, Auburn seventh, Notre Dame eighth, Ohio State ninth and Pittsburgh tenth.

These ratings represent respectively each team's efficiency of consistent performance to date. The ratings do not always indicate a direct gauge of the possible strength of each team. The final ratings of the completed season, however, will in most instances be pretty close to a 100 per cent measure of the strength of the respective teams. The percentage figures below (right-hand column) are the most important. The listing figures (left-hand column) are merely for convenience in giving the fractional differences in order.

The December 15 Williamson Rating Table will be final for most of the teams of the nation. The 1935 national football champion, according to the Williamson system, and probably the first 20 teams of the 1935 season, will emerge from corrections following the New Year's Day games. The release of December 15 and the one in the first week in January will also give tables showing conference champions and relative conference rankings, the game's teams, intersectional comparisons, and other interesting information.

BOY SCOUT HEADS MEET HERE TODAY

Eleven Councils From All Parts of State To Be Entertained.

Eleven Boy Scout councils from various sections of Georgia will be entertained by the Atlanta council at a luncheon meeting at noon today at the Piedmont hotel.

In the afternoon a school of council financing will be conducted by Charles N. Miller, assistant director of the division of operations of the Boy Scouts of America. Miller will be accompanied here by Kenneth G. Bent, regional director of Region 6, which includes the states of Georgia, Florida, North and South Carolina.

Miller will address the Scout members and executives again at the Scouters' Club meeting in the Peachtree Arcade cafeteria at 6 o'clock tonight.

Most of the board of directors of the Atlanta council, headed by Dr. Herman L. Turner, and a number of out-of-town Scout executives will attend the sessions.

Miller has been active in Scouting work for many years and has had wide experience in recreational and social work. For the past five years he has specialized in financing work for the scout organization. He is a graduate of Harvard University.

Chamberlain amused his friends with prophecies on every question—frequently forecasting weather, national events and sports results.

Several years ago he told them he would be dead before 1936, and recently bought the casket when his heart began to cause trouble.

Today, waiting impatiently in a hotel for the elevator, he put his head through a broken pane in the door. The descending car struck him.

With finesse, or whatever it is that hunters use, Radio Patrolmen J. H. Parham (left) and E. A. Dorsey went big game hunting in Atlanta Monday night and captured the deer they are shown with after the animal had startled motorists in the vicinity of Washington street. In true Frank Buck style, they brought him back alive after blinding him with a flashlight. Officers spent an uneasy hour at police headquarters wondering what to do with him before the owner, Harry S. Kaylor, 1026 Washington street, phoned and reported his pet missing. Photo by Turner Hiers.

area early yesterday morning but did about the same damage to beans and squash in the Plant City area outside of Tampa and less damage to tender vegetables and strawberries elsewhere in the state.

Several thousand bean pickers were thrown out of work in the Florida Everglades and the Works Progress Administration resumed road jobs and other projects to take care of the men.

The Florida Citrus Commission warned growers not to flood the northern and eastern markets with frozen fruit, should oranges, grapefruit and tangerines be hit by the cold, and named a special committee to see that the law against such sales was enforced.

So far this winter Florida fruits have escaped assaults from the cold weather, citrus being less subject to cold and frost than vegetables.

All Georgia, too, had unusually cold weather yesterday. At Athens the temperature dropped to 18; at Macon to 22, and at Valdosta, near the Florida line, to 26.

The sharp rise between 8 and 9 o'clock was caused by the helpful sun as it started to work seriously. The good influence of the sun will also be responsible for today's temperatures of 55 degrees or better, an eight-degree improvement over yesterday.

Last night's drop in temperatures down in Florida found the fruit, vegetable and berry growers well warned by the Weather Bureau and doing what they could to prevent further damage to winter crops. Fires burned in fields and groves, and where possible, crops were covered.

Meteorologist E. S. Ellison, of the Weather Bureau at Lakeland, predicted last night's and morning's frosts in the citrus and truck areas would be "of unusual severity." He forecast low temperatures of 27, 28, 29 and 30 and cautioned growers to take care of their crops.

Florida Hard Hit.

It was Jack Frost's third attack on Florida vegetable fields, Saturday night and Sunday morning he caused a loss of 75 per cent in the bean fields around Lake Okechobee west of Palm Beach. His second visit spared that area.

To succeed them, W. B. Haley and J. T. Haley, both of Albany, were elected directors. Subsequently the board of directors named the following officers:

W. B. Haley, president; J. T. Haley, cashier; R. H. Strick Jr., assistant cashier; S. G. Maddox, of Blakely, was named a new member of the board of directors.

The Haley brothers, who now own a controlling interest in this bank, also are president and vice president, respectively, of the City National Bank of Albany. They will continue to make their homes in Albany.

NAVAL STORES GROUP DISCUSSES NEW CODE

AAA Agent Offers Services of U. S. Control Subsidy Considered.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 3.—(P)—Leaders of the naval stores industry in southeastern states and the wood naval stores trade in Atlantic coastal areas discussed the advisability of a new marketing agreement here today.

Day Ward, marketing specialist for the Agricultural Adjustment Administration in Washington, met with the naval stores men "to help them solve their trade problems and offer them any cooperation the federal government can give."

Several suggested changes in the old marketing agreement which has been terminated, and various proposals for new set-ups to give the industry better prices and better working conditions were discussed at the meeting, but Ward said no decision had been reached. The conference will continue.

Safe Driving Pledge

In the interest of accident prevention and safer conditions on the highways and in co-operation with the Safety Council of The Atlanta Constitution, I am making the following pledge:

1. To drive at moderate speed and on own side of road.

2. Not to pass cars on curves or hills.

3. To stop at stop signs.

4. Not to jump traffic lights.

5. In city traffic to be particularly watchful for pedestrians stepping into the line of traffic from parked cars.

6. Always to give hand signals showing my intention of turning to the left, to the right, or stopping, and not to leave the curb from a parked position without giving a signal.

7. To be fair to other drivers in all respects and to refrain from reckless driving.

Two ARE INDICTED IN GAMBLING WAR

Operation of Pin Ball Slot Machine Charged by Grand Jury.

Another step in Solicitor-General John A. Boykin's effort to wipe out gambling on pin ball slot machines was made yesterday by the state with the indictment of Jeff Mayes and J. B. Harris for operating such a machine at a cafe at 212 Whitehall street.

Also indicted yesterday were F. W. Johnson, F. H. Brazelton and Noah Wright, charged with the ride-robb holding of J. B. Christian Jr., of the night of November 27 near Sandy Springs.

Myron Johnson and Coy Bonner, alias Branner, were named in a true bill which alleged they possessed burglary tools, and Fred Allen was indicted for receiving stolen goods, which were taken from the parked car of J. C. Clark. All except Clark are negroes.

Seven persons were indicted for lottery offenses. Named were J. O. Grizard, white, and George Foxworth, Will Colquitt, Marshall Mack, Fred Oliver, John Shivers and Joe Speer, negroes.

The grand jury indicted Pauline (alias Della) Moore, white woman, for assault with a dangerous weapon, allegedly she assaulted Fred Vernon, a soldier at Fort McPherson, on December 1.

ARCHIE HUNTER DIES IN MIDDLETON, OHIO

Archie Hunter, son of William C. Hunter, noted Atlanta landscape architect, died yesterday at his home in Middleton, Ohio. He was 27 years of age and had been ill of pneumonia since Thanksgiving.

His parents reside here at 11 Baltimore place, N. W.

Mr. Hunter was an electrical engineer and a graduate of Georgia Tech in 1929. Following his graduation he went to Russia on engineering projects for the Leeds-Northrup Company, of Philadelphia, in Russia he met and married his wife, who is a Rumanian by birth.

In addition to his wife and parents, he is survived by sister, Mrs. Frances Hunter, of Atlanta, who was at his bedside when he passed away; two brothers, William Hunter Jr. and J. Harvie Hunter, of Atlanta, and his grandparents, who reside in Rothsay, Scotland.

The body will be brought to Atlanta for funeral services and burial. The arrangements will be announced.

HALEY NAMED HEAD OF BANK AT BLAKELY

BLAKELY, Ga., Dec. 3.—(P)—Announcement was made today of a change in the management and control of the First National Bank of Blakely, since 1903 one of the leading financial institutions of this section.

Anne Hart Equen's 'Going Back' Published in Junior League Magazine

By Sally Forth.

THE first position in the December issue of the National Junior League Magazine is given to a creditable story written by Anne Hart Equen. That the possessive of a natural literary flair is unquestionably demonstrated in her story entitled "Going Back." Up to the time she was 12 years old the author lived in Union Point in Green county, and her story is woven around incidents that happened there 20 years ago during her childhood.

Almost every phase of the interesting and well-written narrative is based upon facts, but to give it a bit of glamour, Anne incorporated some fictitious ideas into the copy. The story deals with a family reunion, a ride around the plantation with her father in a horse-drawn buggy, and touches upon Anne's critical illness, Christmas Eve and Christmas celebrations, and the accidental death of her father, whom the author fairly idolized.

The reader can readily visualize the typical Corinthian-columned and glistening white southern mansion built on a land grant by Anne's great-great-grandfather in 1735. The fragrance of the blossoms on magnolia and mimosa trees and on gardenia bushes surrounding the house, is wafted on the gentle breeze, and a box-wood-bordered walk leads up to the three-storyed mansion.

Here Anne was born, as were her father, her grandfather, her great-grandfather and her great-great-grandfather. Here her widowed aunt still lives to carry on the traditions of conservative forebears. The story, harking back to what impressed itself upon the author 20 years ago, has the threads of humor, pathos, tragedy and progress woven in its pleasing pattern. The last paragraph brings "Going Back" up to date, with members of the present generation using automobiles and airplanes as a method of transportation.

This is the third story authored by Anne Hart Equen that has been accepted by the National Junior League Magazine. "House in Order," dealing with house cleaning, was decidedly humorous in vein and won praise from her legion of admirers, who always expect wit and humor from the author. Another story entitled "Marionette Construction" dealt with this particular branch of Junior League work in which Anne Equen is well versed and particularly interested.

WHEN Frances Austin and Marjorie Carmichael make their formal bows this afternoon they will be surrounded by a circle of devoted friends and relatives who have journeyed from a distance to be present upon this auspicious occasion. Among the visitors is Mrs. George Connors, of Birmingham, who is the guest of her son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Grant Jr. Since early boyhood days Mr. Connors and Frances' father, James W. Austin, have been devoted first cousins. Atlantans of another generation recall that Jim Austin acted as best man at Mr. and Mrs. Connors' wedding, which was solemnized in this city, the latter being the former Miss Lillian Lochrane.

Other out-of-town guests attending the double debut reception at which Frances and Marjorie will be presented by their mothers, are Miss Plant Ellis, of Macon; Carolyn Cole, of Savannah; Upshaw Jones, of Oklahoma City; Celeste Smith, of Chicago; Mesdames Harry Leadingham, of Americus; A. L. Miller, of Jackson, Ga., and Edward Alston Lee, of Augusta.

"C'MON, GEORGIA!" frantically screamed the enthusiastic fan. Georgia made a touchdown. "C'mon, Gawg!" he yelled twice as much vociferation. Tech made a touchdown, and the yell was just a little bit weaker. Tech made another touchdown, and the cry was so faint that it could hardly be heard. The home team scored again. First there was silence from the slightly intoxicated fan; then, with a return of vigor, "C'mon, Georgia... Tech!" But then, it was time for Tech to win.

Mrs. Henry Heinz Fetes Church Women At Buffet Supper

Among interesting social events of Tuesday evening was the dinner given by Mrs. Henry Heinz at her home, Rainbow Terrace, on Ponce de Leon avenue in Druid Hills, honoring distinguished visitors attending the meeting of the National Council of Federated Church Women, which is in session at the Druid Hills Golf Club.

In the dining room the table was covered with handmade cutwork cloth and gracing the center was a silver basket filled with pink chrysanthemums. At either end of the table matching silver candlesticks held pink burning tapers. Throughout the other rooms of the home yellow and white chrysanthemums were used in artistic arrangement as the decorations. Mrs. Heinz was assisted in entertaining by her daughter, Mrs. William Davies Owens and Mesdames B. F. Emerson and Alva G. Maxwell, church leaders.

Composing the board are Mrs. J. N. McEachern, of Atlanta, national president; Mrs. Wesley Angle and Mrs. Irving L. Walker, of Rochester, N. Y.; Mrs. Jesse Bader, of New York city; Mrs. O. L. Benway, of New Orleans, La.; Mrs. Thomas A. Edison, of Orange, N. J.; Mrs. Samuel Elberfeld, of East Boston, Mass.; Mrs. John Ferguson, of Briarcliff, N. Y.; Mrs. Ralph Ferguson, of Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. John Hannah, of Dallas, Texas; Mrs. Allen Rondebush, of Cincinnati, Ohio; Miss Daisy June Trout, of Seattle, Wash.; Mrs. Walter L. Wenger, Mrs. Thomas P. Rawlings and Mrs. G. M. Mathes, of Chicago, Ill.; Mrs. Bryson Wilson, of Los Angeles, Cal.; Mrs. Ralph S. Lashaw, of Kansas City, Mo.; Mrs. F. I. Johnson, of St. Cloud, Fla.; Mrs. John P. Sala, of Buffalo, N. Y.; Mrs. Grace Sloan Overton, of Marion, Ind.; Mrs. Arretus F. Burt, of St. Louis, Mo.; Mrs. Alva G. Maxwell, of Atlanta; Mrs. William Rothenburger, of Indianapolis, Ind., and Mrs. L. B. Mather, of Baltimore, Md.

Mrs. Toussaint Arrives Dec. 5 To Instruct Veterans' Auxiliary

Mrs. Winifred D. Toussaint, Jersey City, N. J., was re-elected national president of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States in New Orleans, La., in September, after 15 years of service as a local, state and national officer. Her affiliation with the auxiliary began in the spring of 1919 when she joined General Joseph Wheeler Auxiliary No. 62, which was at that time the only auxiliary in Jersey City.

Mrs. Toussaint arrives in Atlanta for her annual official visit on December 5, at which time she will instruct the Atlanta veterans' auxiliary concerning activities for the coming year, and will be honored at various affairs. At 1 o'clock the day of her arrival, she will be honor guest at a luncheon given by the Atlanta post at the Ansley hotel, after which a meeting will be held. That evening she will address members of posts throughout the entire state at 7:30 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce. All members of patriotic organizations are invited to attend.

Corporal Fred C. Hall Auxiliary No. 1398, was named in memory of her brother who was killed in action on November 4, 1918, while serving in Company 1, 101st Central Postal Directory, United States Infantry. The auxiliary was instituted on December 8, 1919, and Mrs. Toussaint transferred to the charter of this unit and became its first president. She served as chaplain of her auxiliary in 1921-1922, and served continuously as auxiliary treasurer from 1922 to 1924.

In 1925, at the institution of the department of New Jersey, Mrs. Toussaint was elected council member for a four-year period, afterward being elected department president for 1929-1930.

Mrs. Toussaint's record of service in the national organization includes the offices of assistant national deputy, 1929-1931; chairman of the 1930 ritual committee which drew up the ritual adopted by the national encampment at Detroit, Mich., in 1931; national council member from District No. 2, 1930-1932, and national junior vice president, 1932-1933. At the Milwaukee encampment in 1933, she was advanced to the office of national senior vice president and was unanimously elected to the highest ranking position.

MRS. W. D. TOUSSAINT.

the War of Revolution. Her father was Frederick Leland Hall who served with Company G, Second Illinois light artillery, in the Civil War, and her uncle, John Joseph Campbell, served in the United States army during the War with Spain.

In recognition of her services in the selling of Liberty bonds and thrift stamps during the World War, Mrs. Toussaint was given a medal by the United States government. She is a member of civic and patriotic societies, among which are the Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic and Daughters of the Union Veterans of the Civil War, of which latter organization she is a charter member.

Mrs. Overton Addresses Federated Church Women On 'The Home in a Changing Culture' at Meeting

The group of prominent church leaders who are in the city to attend the annual meeting of the National Council of Federated Church Women include, left to right, Mrs. Irving Walker, of Rochester, N. Y., who was elected chairman of the meeting at the opening session yesterday; Mrs. J. T. Ferguson, of Kansas City, executive vice president of the National Council, who arranged the program; Mrs. J. N. McEachern, of Atlanta, national president of the organization; Mrs. Arretus Burt, of St. Louis, chairman of motion pictures and drama for the National Council, who will address the luncheon meeting at the Atlanta Woman's Club on Thursday; and Mrs. A. S. Deacon, of Kansas City, treasurer of the National Council of Federated Church Women. Staff photo by Turner Hiers.

By ANNIE LOU HARDY.

Presenting the dilemma of modern youth as the immediate and urgent problem confronting the Federated Church Women of America, Mrs. Grace Sloan Overton, of Marion, Ind., noted author and lecturer, addressed a mass meeting last evening at the Druid Hills Baptist church. The meeting featured the first day's session of the annual convention of the National Council of Federated Church Women of America, which continues throughout today and tomorrow.

Mrs. Overton, who is chairman of the department of marriage and the home for the national council, addressed the large gathering on the subject, "The Home in a Changing Culture," which is also the title of her new book just off the press.

"Today our family pattern is blurred," she told the throng made up of church leaders from every denomination. "Some of the threads are old and faded, and will no longer hold under the stress and strain of modern life. But other threads are still strong. They are vivid with the lasting days of truth and virtue in spite of the drenching of the years of experience."

She pointed out the sweep of modern life which demands constant change, saying that it is so complex that it is difficult to think of the home apart from the social structure in which it has its setting and from which it must have its security. She urged Christian women to investigate the social and economic structure to discover if it gives their homes the security and opportunity required to develop the kind of personalities needed in the present culture.

Mrs. Overton listed some of the most important things which a family should be able to give its members. First she considered the basic necessities of life—food, clothing and shelter—of which a large proportion of families are deprived today or they are haunted by the daily fear of being deprived. Her second consideration stressed the care of health, in which great strides have been made in recent years.

Dilemma of Youth.

"It is disheartening to a young person to reach working age, only to find the world has no place for him to work," continued the forceful speaker. And she deplored the army of eleven million youths, whom she described as depression-shocked, who find nothing but frustration—no opportunity to earn an income, no chance to marry and establish a home.

In conclusion Mrs. Overton acknowledged for the great band of Christian women the grave responsibility of influencing today's home, wherein are developed the fathers and mothers of tomorrow's children.

In addition to her chairmanship in the Federated Church Council, Mrs. Overton is a member of the World's Council of Youth and a member of the social service committee of the Federated Council of Churches of Christ. Her keenest interest is in the work of students and young people, and she spent the year 1933 studying the work in Russia and Germany. She is fluent, alert and intelligent, with more than the usual quota of comeliness and a magnetic personality.

The opening session of the Federated Church Council convention was held yesterday morning at the Druid Hills Golf Club, with Mrs. John N. McEachern, national president, presiding. Mrs. C. R. Stauffer, president of the Atlanta Council of Federated Church Women, gave the opening devotional, which was followed by the election of Mrs. Irving Walker, of Rochester, N. Y., as chairman of the meeting. Mrs. Walker serves the council as chairman of Christian social relations, and in addition is director of the Church Women of the state of New York, executive secretary of the Rochester Council of Church Women, and is national president of Universalist Church Women. Slender, gray-haired, and modestly gowned, she presides with ease and grace, her selection as chairman speaking for her executive ability.

To its executive vice president, Mrs. James T. Ferguson, of Kansas City, the council is indebted for the splendid program arranged for the meeting. Mrs. Ferguson, the outstanding church leader of Missouri, was instrumental in organizing the Federated Church Women eight years ago and served as their first president. She again headed the organization in 1934-35.

Mrs. McEachern's message. The message of the council president, Mrs. McEachern, highlighted the opening session. Advancing upon the thought that religion in some form will always be the center and is responsible for all that is best in any nation's life, she told the council that the structure of its program and the work of the Federated Church Women should be built upon such a foundation. She stressed the placing of a risen, living Christ as the center of all its plans and activities, in order to be able to steer safely through the traditional prejudices, biased opinions and unchristianlike attitudes.

In speaking of her overwhelming responsibility as its leader, she outlined to the council her manifold activities of the year. In conclusion she voiced a hopeful note for the future of the organization, saying that the feeling is almost universal that the spiritual forces to present-day human needs must be found, or rediscovered in the lives of individuals and religious institutions if they are to be powerful enough to produce an adequate remedy for human ills of the age. She pointed as the remedy the reclamation of the areas in human lives that are not protected by the spirit of Christ, that to be brought about by the power of a united church with no unclaimed areas.

"This church," she said, "is the goal set by the National Council of Federated Church Women."

Reports of chairmen featured the business side of the opening session, those reporting including Mrs. J. T. Ferguson, executive vice president; Mrs. R. J. Hudelson, of Indianapolis, chairman of administrative committee; Mrs. A. S. Deacon, of Kansas City, treasurer; Mrs. F. I. Johnson, of St. Cloud, Fla., chairman of finance; Mrs. Grace Sloan Overton, program chairman; Mrs. Alva Maxwell, of Atlanta, chairman of publicity; and Mrs. R. S. Latshaw, of Kansas City, chairman of spiritual life.

Luncheon was served at noon at the clubhouse, with a group of prominent Atlanta women as hostesses and with Mrs. B. F. Cameron and Mrs. T. B. Smith in charge of arrangements. In the afternoon other reports were heard.

Today's program will consider a discussion and determination of policies as regards program, finances, relationships and administration. Thursday's calendar is featured by a luncheon at the Atlanta Woman's Club, with Mrs. Arretus Burt, of St. Louis, director of motion pictures and drama, as the speaker.

Miss Frances Hammond Is Wed To Mr. John Newton Thompson

The marriage of Miss Frances Hammond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Bryant Hammond, and John Newton Thompson was quietly solemnized in the presence of the families yesterday afternoon in the study of the Hills Baptist church, with Dr. Louis D. Newton, pastor of the church, officiating.

The bride's sister, Miss Marguerite Hammond, was her only attendant, and she was attractively attired in a Bergundy alpaca crepe gown with black accessories, and she wore a shoulder spray of gardenias. Mr. Thompson's only attendant was George Erwin.

The bride wore an olive green cloth suit trimmed with brown beaver, and a blouse of egg-shell satin. Her brown hat was fashioned off-the-face style, and her other accessories were of matching brown. Her flowers were a cluster of purple orchids.

Mrs. Hugh Bryant Hammond, mother of the bride, wore black crepe, trimmer home on Charlotte road. She wore black accessories, and a shoulder spray of gardenias and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Ben S. Thompson, mother of the groom, was attractively attired in a black crepe model worn with black accessories, and her flowers were a cluster of gardenias and valley lilies.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson left for a trip to Daytona, Miami and other points in Florida. Upon their return, they will reside in Jackson, Miss., where Mr. Thompson is connected in business.

Buffet Supper.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. McKinney will be hosts to a group of close friends at an informal buffet supper on next Sunday evening at their home on Peachtree road. The supper is one of numerous parties planned for this week-end.

Lillian Mae Patterns

A MATRON MAY VARY TRIM OF THIS FLATTERING FROCK.

Pattern 2511.

Little changes—extra touches—make certain frocks favorites with us. Especially so when we've only one or two "better" ones to change off to.

This flattering model will have special appeal for the size 48, though it is equally smart in smaller sizes—and both will welcome the varied ideas for trim—buttons one week, a braid frog the next, and cloth posies when you want to look extra nice. Great weight-concealers, too—those slender center panels which minimize the side-to-side measurement—and a double jabot that saves work by being cut in one with the yoke. Loveliest in dull lustre, dark synthetic, or a winter sheer.

Pattern 2511 is available in sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 36 takes 4 1/8 yards 39-inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions.

Send fifteen cents (15c) in coin—stamps not accepted—for this Lillian Mae pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. Be sure to state size.

Things That Make Women More Beautiful

A Gardenia Perfume That Is Exactly Like Real Flowers.

By MIGNON.

I have found a new gardenia perfume, supposed to be made of gardenias from Tahiti—if they grow there. At any rate, the package is strikingly artistic and in fine taste, and the perfume is of the best.

Remember when using the popular gardenia perfume NEVER TO USE TOO MUCH. It's a fatal mistake. A little is good. More is terrible—and that means any gardenia perfume to me. It is a scent you have to learn to use, to do a fine job of it and intrigue your associates. You want only as much smell as you would get from one blossom plucked on your coat—no more.

If you are one of the throng who might be termed gardenia-conscious, you could do no better than to run right out and buy a bottle of this delightful, though not expensive, perfume. Try a touch of it on your flesh at the inside of the elbows—NOT ON THE CLOTHES.

If you want to know where you can purchase any article mentioned in this column phone Mignon at The Constitution. Please do not write unless you live outside the city, in which case enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

By FRANK MACMILLAN.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—(AP)—A last-hour burst of buying which left the market, drove stocks up for net gains of 1 to 4 points today.

The late demand, which came on the heels of a movement which had been quietly favored, was attributed in brokerage circles partly to reports that peace moves were under way looking to settlement of the Italian Ethiopian dispute. It was also pointed out that the market recently may have been oversold.

Grist for the trading mill had been considered generally favorable and, under the leadership of the rails, metals and specialties, prices had edged moderately higher up to the arrival of the reported attempts at liquidation of foreign loans.

At this juncture, financial observers said, shorts scrambled to cover and sold-out longs made haste to replace commitments they had sold recently, owing to fears of the Associated Press average of 60 stocks, the market advanced 1.1 to 55.1. The rise equaled that of November 23, and when it was 1.2, the best since May 8, when it was 1.2. The advance was attributable to the best October net operating income in five years and to the opinion that the best outlook for industrial improvement after the turn of the year will bring heavier movement of freight.

Preliminary estimates of loadings last week indicated, however, that the official report to be issued Friday will register a weak showing to inclusion of the Thanksgiving holiday.

Sugar and Coffee.

SUGAR.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—Raw sugar was unchanged today.

Prices of current raw sugar declined at 3 to 5 points, or at 3 to 5, were confirmed. They included the regular over-quotations Puerto Rican for December shipment to a local refiner, while a small quantity of this year's crop was sold to a refiner at the same basis.

Buyers were said to be showing further interest in raw sugar, but there was no available except at 3 to 5 for Cuba and 3 to 5 for free trade.

The situation of 5 December notice, the circulation of which in the market during the early trading, had otherwise been generally quiet, and no other material news was reported.

Household and hotel trade and commission houses, which had been the best of the season on most positions with December not unchanged and later months 1 to 2 points net higher. Sales 4,300 tons.

COFFEE.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—Coffee moved irregularly over a narrow range in quiet trading today.

AUGUSTA POWER PLAN STUDIED IN CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—(P)—Power experts of the Public Works Administration today were studying a proposed contract between the Augusta Canal Commission and the Georgia Power Company.

Paul M. Thayer, engineer for the commission, conferred yesterday with PWA officials asking that the commission be allowed to enter into a contract whereby the latter would buy canal bonds and the commission would buy its auxiliary power from the company.

POLICEMAN WOUNDS NEGRO FLEEING THEFT

A negro was believed to have been wounded last night when several shots were fired by an officer who tussled with him after he surprised him robbing a parked automobile. The negro escaped.

Patrolman J. J. Elliott encountered the negro in Butler street, near Grady hospital, as the negro was leaving the automobile of Dr. C. B. Upshaw, from which two suitcases, containing valuable surgical instruments and clothing, had been taken.

The negro dropped the bags and ran, the officer catching him a short distance away. They grappled several minutes, but the negro wrested himself from the patrolman's grasp and fled, the officer shooting after him.

The fleeing negro left a trail of blood.

AGED LOWNDES CITIZEN GIVEN LIFE SENTENCE

VALDOSTA, Ga., Dec. 3.—(P)—John Stockdale, aged Lowndes county resident, today faced a sentence of life imprisonment for the fatal stabbing July 15 of Frank McAllister, prominent Brooks county resident. Two of Stockdale's sons are co-defendants in the case and will face trial later in the week.

The jury brought in its verdict of guilty in the elder Stockdale's case yesterday.

CORRECTLY STYLED

MODERN

AT A MODERATE PRICE

It's a Kroehler

Modern, in correct conservative design, is sweeping the country. Kroehler, world's largest manufacturer of furniture, has built the suite illustrated with straight simple lines, wide useful arms and low floor lines. You will just have to sit in this suite to be convinced of its comfort. Covered all over in the same fabric or in combination covers as shown. This Kroehler Suite at this price is truly a remarkably "good" buy.
